Mmm! Bring On More Corn

CORN EATIN' TIME is at its height in Marion and Freddie Green is sinking his teeth into another ear of good home-grown corn. Freddie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Bowermaster of 807 Daffodil Dr. He says he can polish off about half a dozen good ears without stopping. He will enter the seventh grade at Edison Junior High School next month.

Carolinas Get Set as Diane Aims at Coast

Hurricane's Movement Expected To Bring It To Seaboard Tonight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Diane slowed to a crawl over the Atlantic today and forecasters watched closely to determine whether she would swing to a more northwesterly course.

Her 115-mile winds were poised about 300 miles east-southeast of Charleston, S. C., and an equal distance from Cape Hatteras, N. C. Hurricane warnings flew from Fernandian, Fla., to Wilmington, N. C., and storm warnings on each side of that area from St. Augustine, Fla., to the Virginia capes.

May Change Direction

"There is an old standing rule among hurricanes," said Walter Davis, storm forecaster in the Weather Bureau's storm warning center here. "That is, when a hurricane slows its forward pace it has a tendency to change directions.

"Diane would have changed to a more northwesterly course earlier but was blocked by a high pressure ridge to the north. This high pressure is beginning to weaken and pull back out over the sea. As this roadblock breaks up, there is reason to expect the delayed change of direction may come about."

Such a change, if it occurred, would be bad news for the North Carolina-Virginia section raked only five days ago by hurricane Connie with a loss of 42 lives and millions in property damage.

It would be helpful to the Georgia and North Florida area. South Carolina would remain in the area of greatest threat.

May Arrive Tonight

A 5 a.m. advisory said Diane could be expected to move at a forward pace of 8 to 10 miles an hour for 12 to 24 hours "with a slow trend to a more northwesterly course." This movement would bring the center to the South Carolina coast late tonight or Wednesday morning, said the advisory.

The advisory said Diane's highest winds are concentrated over a small area near the center with hurricane winds extending outward 125 miles to the north and east and 70 miles to the southwest of center. "Gale force winds extend 350 miles northeast and east and 200 miles to the southwest and west of the center," the advisory added.

Tides were one to four feet above normal and were expected to become six to nine feet above normal in places a short distance north of the storm's path.

"Interests in the area of warning display should rush all preparations for the protection of life and property against dangerous winds," the Weather Bureau said. "Shipping should exercise caution."

Savannah Beach, Ga., was ordered evacuated and residents along the South Carolina coast boarded up.

Bombay Mob Wants Action On Colonies

Protests Killing of 15 Demonstrators in Goa; 150,000 Join March

BOMBAY, India (AP) — Inflamed over Monday's bloodshed in Portuguese India, frenzied mobs of Indians rioted through Bombay today. They hoisted the Indian flag over the Portuguese consulate, forced newspapers, shops and business houses to close, and surrounded government buildings.

Demonstrators shouted "Nehru—leave Delhi and lead us to Goa!" as they stoned the consulate and smashed its windows. The consulate personnel had been evacuated earlier.

Police Fire on Mob

Police opened fire on the mob, wounding three demonstrators. Several bus and streetcar conductors were hurt in attacks on their vehicles as the mob enforced a general strike throughout the city.

Beginning at dawn, more than 150,000 Indians marched past the consulate screaming demands for military action against the three small Portuguese territories north and south of Bombay. Guards there Monday killed an undetermined number of "nonviolent" Indian marchers demanding the cession of the areas to India.

In New Delhi, Prime Minister Nehru told the Indian Parliament that his government would not be "provoked" by the killings into military action against Portugal. He said he would continue to seek the transfer of Portuguese India, the last foreign territory in the country, by peaceful means.

Shops were also closed throughout New Delhi by a 24-hour protest strike.

15 Dead, 28 Wounded

Nehru said information from the Bombay state government put the toll in the march into the Portuguese colonies at 15 dead and 28 wounded but he said the casualties might have been greater. He reported some 800 demonstrators were still in Goa and Diu, two of the settlements, and said there was no information on what had happened to them.

Sgt. Gallagher Denies Slaying Fellow POWs

Says Testimony of One Witness Influenced by Enmity Toward Him

NEW YORK (AP)—Sgt. James C. Gallagher said today he believed personal dislike of him influenced the testimony of one witness at his court-martial for the unpremeditated murder of three fellow prisoners in Korea.

Gallagher, 23, of Brooklyn, on the stand in his own defense, said he referred to Sgt. L. C. Lloyd W. Pate, of Augusta, Ga., who testified for the prosecution.

He said he once had told Pate to "mind his own —— —— business."

"Do you know of any reason why Pate would want to lie?" Maj. James J. Jenkins, the prosecutor, asked in cross-examination.

"Not that I know of," said Gallagher. "I know the man disliked me."

The defendant said Pate disliked him because of the death of Cpl. John Williams Jones, of Detroit, in the Chinese Red prison camp.

Gallagher is accused of dragging Jones, who was ill, from a hut to frigid temperatures outside and leaving him to die.

"He came up one day and ac-

Final Arrangement Worked Out for New Company

Bus service in Marion will be resumed Thursday morning at 11:45, Walter Christian of 260 Latourette St., announced this morning.

Christian, who is taking over operation of the buses, said all arrangements were worked out Monday between him and the Springfield City Lines from whom he is to lease the vehicles.

HE SAID HE and his drivers would bring the buses to Marion either tonight or early Wednesday morning.

Special insurance has been provided for transporting the buses between Springfield and Marion and for operating the buses over city streets.

The same drivers who worked for the Springfield company when it operated here will drive the buses when service is resumed. Christian said they were employed on a seniority basis.

Christian said he was presently working out a schedule complete with routes and times to be printed this week. He said he was attempting to arrange the schedule to get persons to work on time in the mornings and provide service to the Marion General Hospital.

He said that there will be no service this Sunday for the County Fair, explaining that patronage

Hunt Pressed For Irish Units Raiding Depots

British Police Arrest Two, Recover Arms; Guerrilla War Feared

LONDON (AP)—Police seized two men in an ammunition laden car today as Scotland Yard and Army agents pushed their nationwide hunt for Irish Republican Army (IRA) men blamed for raids on British military depots.

The dragnet caught the men in a station wagon near Hainault Forest, Essex. Police found dozens of rounds of ammunition stacked on the back seat. The two men held for questioning were said to speak with Irish accents.

Meanwhile, detectives scoured the haunts and hangouts of London's Irish nationalist groups seeking clues to identities of IRA men who raided the Arborfield Depot near Reading Saturday and stole 68 firearms and about 80,000 rounds of ammunition.

Two more abortive raids were made Monday in British camps in Wales and England by men be-

Pat McDermott Back in Prison

Escapee Is Returned From New York State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Notorious Pat McDermott was back at Ohio Penitentiary today almost 10 months after he had walked away from an honor dormitory at the prison last November.

McDermott, serving a life sentence at the time of his escape, was returned here last night and admitted to the penitentiary at 11:30 p.m.

There were no observers as McDermott was whisked quietly into the penitentiary, handcuffed to Capt. Homer Hunter and Lt. Thomas Temple of the Ohio Division of Correction.

The 56-year-old McDermott was returned to Ohio yesterday by automobile after he had waived extradition in a New York City court hearing.

Warden Ralph W. Alvis said McDermott is being kept in the prison's hospital isolation ward for a regular routine examination.

"The trip was uneventful and without incident," Alvis said of the journey. Alvis said McDermott's arrival had been expected early today. The trip to Ohio started immediately after the court hearing, the warden added.

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)—Ohio National Guard antiaircraft gunners from 13 cities are training here to defend Ohio against enemy aircraft.

Some 700 guardsmen are prepared to defend the state's strategic areas in event of an attack, says Col. Wilbur H. Fricke of Dayton, commander of the 371st AAA Group. The 180th and 182nd AAA battalions are members of the group along with the 177th and 179 AAA battalions which have already completed summer training.

Guardsmen now in training are from Dayton, Hamilton, Middletown, Greenville, Lima, Piqua, Canton, New Philadelphia, Akron, Columbus, Toledo, Springfield and Logan.

Car Crashes South Of City on Route 4; Driver 'Critical'

Richard Grubaugh, 21, Marion serviceman, was critically injured when his auto crashed into a farm field just south of Newman's bridge on State Route 4 this morning.

He was driving south on 4 when he lost control of the car while crossing the bridge. It skidded to the left side of the highway, and then ran into a ditch on the right side of the road and flipped over into a farm field owned by Delmar Twigg.

He was traveling at a high rate of speed, state highway patrolmen said.

The accident occurred about 5:15 a.m. but was not discovered for nearly an hour. A passing trucker saw the wrecked car in the field and called patrolmen. Grubaugh was found slumped on the ground about 50 feet away. Patrolmen theorize he crawled out of the demolished car; rather than being thrown out in the crash.

He was suffering from severe internal injuries, and was near death when brought to the hospital.

He was rushed to the hospital in a Boyd ambulance. His car, a 1955 model, was demolished and was removed by an Almendinger wrecker from Prospect.

Which Is Tops: Shotgun, Rifle?

Youths Shoot It Out To Learn; One Killed

DENISON, Tex., (AP)—Two young men settled an argument Monday whether a rifle or a shotgun is a better firearm by shooting it out. One was killed and the survivor is charged with murder.

Kay Richardson, 22, the survivor and the man who liked the rifle, told authorities his argument with 19-year-old Gerald Lee Wells began after an all-night drinking bout.

Richardson gave this account to County Atty. Boyd Newman and Denison Herald reporter John Crawford:

Richardson was carrying a shotgun and pistol as the two walked along a railroad track. The argument began and Richardson turned his firearms over to Wells and went home for his 30-30 rifle.

When Richardson returned, Wells opened fire with the shotgun but the pellets scattered harmlessly. Richardson said he fired once as Wells ducked behind a shed. Richardson said he intended only to scare Wells. Newman said, however, that Richardson also fired into a house and threatened several other persons with the gun.

Dulles Thinks U.S. May Have 'Reached' Reds

Attributes Soviet Arms Cut to Recognition of U.S.'s Peaceful Aims

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today Russia's announced intention to reduce its armed forces "appears to reflect Soviet recognition of the peaceful purposes of the United States and its allies."

But he warned that the cut will leave Russian forces "much larger" than those of the United States, and continue other elements of Russian military strength unimpaired.

Furthermore, Dulles stressed the point that the Soviets have never given out any information on the size of their forces or the nature of their weapons.

He said the whole situation created by the Russian announcement last Saturday shows why an international exchange of information and a system of "effective inspection" are necessary for any "intelligent approach" to the control and reduction of military power.

In a formal statement at his news conference, Dulles said the United States government hopes that great power talks on disarmament which will begin under United Nations sponsorship in New York Aug. 29 "can make progress toward establishing a reliable international system of inspection."

In Saturday's announcement, the Soviet government said it planned to cut its armed forces by 640,000 men by next Dec. 15.

Dulles also told his news conference:

The United States is talking with non-Communist members of the

U.S. and Chinese Renew Discussion

GENEVA (AP)—U. S. and Communist Chinese ambassadors met for nearly 2½ hours today and then recessed their talks until Thursday. They gave no indication of any progress toward the release of 41 Americans held by Peiping.

At the end of their session behind closed doors, the negotiators said only that they would again take up the issue of civilians repatriation at their next session.

The meeting was the seventh, and one of the longest, between U. Alexis Johnson, U.S. ambassador to Czechoslovakia, and Wang Ping-nan, Red China's envoy to Poland.

Seven Refuse To Talk

Actors Balk at Questions In Probe of Red Activities

NEW YORK, (AP)—A congressional probe of Red activity in show business brought up a solid line of opening-day witnesses firmly opposed to answering questions.

Altogether, six actors and an actress were called before the House Un-American Activities Committee Monday and each in turn refused to answer when asked about communism. When one declared this refusal contained no implication of guilt, Committee Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) snapped back:

"You can refuse to answer and we can all draw whatever inference we wish."

One Denounces Probe

The probe was denounced as a "star chamber procedure" by actor Lou Polan. Ignoring the committee counsel and Walter's banging gavel, Polan read a statement arguing that the committee lacked authority to conduct the investigation. At the end he announced:

"I refuse to answer any questions that this committee puts before me." His defiance brought applause from the hearing audience, but Walter warned it could bring a citation for contempt.

Most witnesses complained that the committee's questions invaded their privacy and threatened the constitutional right of free association. One of these was Phil Leeds, 39, who played in the recent stage hit "Can Can," and on several TV shows. He declared:

Unions Mentioned

"The committee is intruding upon my privacy as an American citizen. In America you can believe in anything. You can believe in Yogi Berra or that lanolin will save the world."

At the end of the day, Walter commented:

Tension Grows in Argentina

More Than 50 Arrested In Plot on Life of Peron

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Government charges that "Catholic nationalists" and opposition politicians had plotted to shoot President Juan Peron brought Argentina to its greatest state of tension since the June 16 revolt.

Police said more than 50 persons had been arrested. Other sources indicated as many as 200 might have been jailed. Previous announcements of such plots during the nine years of Peron's regime have signaled widespread roundups of his enemies.

Could End Campaign

This could be the end of the "pacification" campaign Peron launched after the abortive navy uprising two months ago.

It also could mean a new flareup in the feud between the President and the Roman Catholic Church—mostly dormant since the revolt—and a new crackdown on the opposition parties which have refused to go along with the pacification campaign unless the government ends its restrictive measures.

Adding to the unrest were new antigovernment demonstrations, in front of Buenos Aires' Metropolitan Cathedral Monday night and earlier Monday in the central Argentine city of Cordoba. Police used tear gas and fire hoses to scatter the crowds, arresting about 40 demonstrators in the capital and 15 in Cordoba.

No Protection Measures

There were no signs of special measures to protect the President. The government announcement said the plotters had planned to shoot him Monday, from an apartment they had rented on the route along which he usually drove between his office and his home.

The announcement charged that the conspirators planned also to kill Maj. Gen. Franklin Lucero, the army minister who quashed the June revolt, and other top officials and army commanders,

Town Lighted by A-Power

Folks in Idaho Town Still Thrilled by Atom 'First'

ARCO, Idaho (AP)—Atomic power has the people of Arco feeling higher than a space ship.

"And naturally, they haven't started coming back to earth yet," former Idaho Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen said.

Worldwide Fame

That's because this little east central Idaho ranching center won worldwide fame last Friday with the disclosure it was the first town in history known to have been lighted by atomic energy.

On the night of July 17 the Utah Power and Light Co. switched off the juice and let electricity flow into Arco's circuits from an Atomic Energy Commission experimental nuclear power plant 20 miles away.

Nobody knew it was happening then except town officials and the Power and Light people.

Mayor Ralph M. Ellison even says the wrong date is going down in history. "It happened on July the 16—a Saturday night," he said. "I remember for a fact."

But Clarence W. Byrne, Power and Light manager, who is "quite pleased" with his part in a "bit of history," said the mayor is mistaken. "Yes, it was July the 17," he said.

Sworn to Secrecy

Before and during the test, those who knew about it were sworn to secrecy. But as soon as it was over, Ellison said, the word started spreading among Arco's 1,200 residents.

Even then, he said, there wasn't much of a stir. "People got kind of enthused, but some said they didn't think it amounted to much—you know how some of these old-timers are."

Then the story was released to the world last Friday, and Arco

Idle Tribe Slips to Second as New York Takes Two

Wynn Nominated To Pitch Opener of Series at Detroit

By The Associated Press

Both Cleveland and New York have won six of their last seven games in the ding-dong American League race, yet the Yankees have pushed the Indians out of first place.

The Yanks, who have played and won one more game than the Tribe, slipped back into the lead by half a game Monday, walking off with their second doubleheader sweep at Baltimore in two days, 5-4 and 12-6.

Cleveland and third-place Chicago, now 1½ games behind were idle.

In the only other game, fourth-place Boston stayed 3½ games back by smacking Washington 8-4 in way of a warmup for yet another crucial series with the Yankees opening tonight in Boston.

Lopez Confident

Manager Al Lopez still thinks his Cleveland Indians will win the American League pennant and he says better pitching will do it.

The Indians, idle yesterday, fell to second place.

Cleveland opens a three game series with fifth place Detroit tonight. Lopez will send Early Wynn against Billy Hoeft in the series opener that's expected to draw 50,000.

Relaxed and confident, Lopez readily answered reporters' questions yesterday.

"You need real good pitching in a rac like this and I think we've got the edge there," he said. "If we have one or two hot pitchers in the last few weeks—Bob Lemon, maybe, or Wynn—I'll use them as often as I can.

"We'll have a lot of off days, so I can bring them back in big games. You don't have to follow the regular rotation going down to the wire."

Already shuffling the rotation, Lopez plans to use Lemon tomorrow and Mike Garcia in the final Detroit game. Garcia, who pitched three innings against Kansas City Sunday, will be taking Herb Score's regular turn. Lopez thinks Garcia just had bad luck against the Athletics.

Lopez believes the Yankees are the team to beat. He predicted the race would narrow down to the Yankees and the Indians in the final week.

Counts on Experience

"Experience is important," he said. "New York has it and so do we.

"That's where you separate the men from the boys. An experienced bench is very important. We have men like Hoot Evers, Ferris Fain and Ralph Kiner.

"We've got experienced relief pitchers, too. Guys who won't fold when the going gets rough.

"I think we'll win. I always have."

Home runs powered the Yanks back into the driver's seat, with Hank Bauer's solo shot in the ninth inning, his third in three games, breaking up a 4-4 tie in the opener. In the second game, Mickey Mantle unloaded his 28th with two men on to give the Yanks an 8-0 lead in the fourth, then belted No. 29 to make it 10-2 in the sixth inning.

Rookie Johnny Kucks was the first-game winner, relieving Bob Wiesler after the last-place Orioles got four in the fifth. The Yanks then started Rip Coleman, added to the roster Sunday from Denver, and he got his first major league victory with the relief help of Bob Grim, back from the disabled list, in the nightcap.

Williams Leads Attack

At Boston, Ted Williams belted a grand-slam homer that made it a 6-0 game in the second inning. Washington chased Mel Parnell with four in the third as Roy Sievers homered with two on, but southpaw Leo Kiely shut them off with one hit the rest of the way.

Jim Piersall homered for the Red Sox's other two runs in the seventh.

In the lone National League game, Milwaukee slammed St. Louis 12-1. Willard Schmidt, who one-hit the Braves last week, was the loser, giving way in the fifth as Milwaukee made it 5-0. Eddie Mathews hit his 31st homer with one on in the first for the Braves, who made it a bonafide rout with six runs in the seventh.

Boston Hoping To Kill Yanks' Chance at Flag

BOSTON (AP) — The New York Yankees, once again atop the American League standings, invade the graveyard of their 1954 pennant hopes—Fenway Park—tonight in the opener of their annual mid-August series with Boston.

The Yanks, with six straight triumphs, have regained undisputed possession of first place following Monday's sweep of a doubleheader with Baltimore. The Red Sox are 3½ games behind in fourth place.

Exactly a year ago Boston demoralized New York with a three-game sweep. It dropped them 5½ games behind Cleveland and they were unable to catch the Tribe.

The Yankees indicated a return to their power-hitting by blasting Baltimore four times. Hank Bauer's home run won the first game Monday and Mickey Mantle slugged two in the nightcap.

If Monday night was any indication, the Red Sox also are toughening again after a brief slump. Ted Williams hit a grand slam home run in an 8-4 win over Washington. Reliefer Leo Kiely gave up one single and one walk in a splendid 6 2/3 inning pob.

Harding's Grid Staff Plans for Season

Larson and 7 Aides Slate Opening of Drills Saturday

Plans for the 1955 football campaign were made by new Harding High School Grid Coach Gordon K. Larson, his assistants, and Marion's three junior high school grid mentors in a lengthy meeting Monday night at the school.

Larson outlined his coaching program to the coaches, was acquainted with the personnel on his squad this year, and arrangements were completed for practice which starts Saturday.

Harding Schedule

WEDNESDAY

Issuing of Uniforms

9 a.m.—Seniors.
10 a.m.—Juniors.
11 a.m.—Sophomores.

FRIDAY

Physical exams at 8 30 a.m.

Larson and his aides set Wednesday morning at Harding for the handing out of uniforms to Prexy grid candidates and Friday morning for physicals at the school. Seniors are to receive their uniforms at 9 a.m., juniors at 10 a.m. and sophomores at 11 a.m. Larson stressed that he wanted the gridders on time. Physicals are scheduled for 8 30 a.m. Friday.

The new Harding coach announced the training schedule for the next two weeks preceding the start of school. Practices will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. and from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. daily, with classroom instruction from 3 p.m to 4 p.m. preceding the afternoon sessions.

Plans to scrimmage four school football squads starting after the first week of practice were revealed by Larson. The annual preview will be held with Norwalk here Sept. 9.

Larson along with his assistants, Jim Lawler, Al Beach, Lou Ralston and Bob Messaros, and George Whitehead, Don Zeisler and Marion Waits, junior high coaches, are to meet again tonight at 7 o'clock to complete arrangements for the first practice this week.

Indians Ousted

FOP, Elks Win To Advance To Teen League's Playoff

Marion's Fraternal Order of Police and Elk squads open a three-game series at 6:15 p.m. tonight at Lincoln Park for the City Teen League championship.

A doubleheader is scheduled.

Both squads qualified for the championship series by turning in victories last night.

FOP whipped the Indians 6-3 in the opener and in the nightcap, the Elks came back to eliminate the Indians by the identical 6-3 score. Playoff games for the county Teen League title were originally scheduled but Prospect failed to appear for its scheduled contest with the Elks and the schedule was revised.

Dave Gallimore and Jim Anspaugh held the Indians to two hits in the FOP win.

They struck out five, walked five, and hit a batter. Bob Lister, the loser, gave up nine hits, fanned six and walked five.

A run in the second, four in the third and one in the sixth accounted for the FOP run total. The Indians scored once in the fifth and twice in the seventh with the help of three walks, a pair of errors and a hit.

Gruber, Barrett and Hart all had two hits for the winners.

Three runs in the second on four hits proved to be the Elks winning margin in the nightcap.

It gave them a 4-0 lead and Larry Corbin protected it on a seven-hitter. Two markers in the fifth after the Indians had scored twice in the second sealed the win.

Corbin fanned eight, walked five and hit a batsman. His opponent on the mound, V. Williams, also gave up only seven hits while striking out four, walking four and hitting a batter.

Delaney and Welty had two hits for the winners. Claypool banged out three hits and Williams had two.

Columbus Defeats Richmond Nine 8-0

By The Associated Press

If the Toronto Maple Leafs figured to waltz back into the International League lead against Montreal they better forget it. The Royals are playing their best when the chips are down.

Montreal, which snatched first place from Toronto last week but hasn't been able to build up much of an edge, smacked the Maple Leafs 7-3 last night in the first game of their showdown series and moved into a one-game lead.

In other games the Havana Sugar Kings dropped 2½ games off the pace by dropping a 7-2 decision to the Syracuse Chiefs. The Rochester Red Wings defeated the Buffalo Bisons 8-6 and the Columbus Jets trounced the Richmond Virginians 8-0.

Congress' Help Requested for Ring Cleanup

DETROIT (AP)—The National Boxing Assn. will ask Congress to help it clean up professional boxing. The job, it says, is too big for the association.

The group took the action Monday after it learned the FBI for the past two and a half months has been investigating the big-time ring game, long linked with underworld figures.

At the same time, Anthony Petronella, NBA president, promised to name today a seven-man committee to develop nationwide uniform boxing laws.

Each state now has its own laws which vary from state to state.

George A. Barton, former NBA president and for 13 years chairman of the Minnesota Athletic Commission, told the 150 representatives of state boxing commissions from 47 states, Canada and Latin American countries that the Department of Justice entered the investigation in June through its antitrust division.

Illini Backfield Star Ineligible For Grid Action

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Illinois' hopes of emerging from the Big Ten cellar and back into national football prominence were dealt a shattering blow Monday when J C. Caroline, one of the most exciting backs in Illini history, was declared ineligible.

The No. 1 man in Illinois grid plans, Caroline was declared scholastically ineligible to play football after failing a summer school course in psychology.

J. C. dropped out of school "in good standing" last spring because of the death of a grandfather and the serious illness of his mother.

At the time, Illinois officials announced he would return to make up his work in summer school to regain eligibility this fall.

Football Coach Ray Eliot shook his head sadly after hearing the news.

"He was our No. 1 offensive man. No. 1 defensive man, No. 1 punter and we planned to use him on kickoffs and extra points.

"Right now, I guess we'll have to move Harry Jefferson in Caroline's spot with Abe Woodson at the other half. From there on we'll just have to fill the gaps."

Caroline virtually came from nowhere in 1953 when he led Illinois to a share of the Big Ten title. The fleet-footed Negro from Columbia, S.C., led the nation in rushing offense with 1,256 yards in 194 carries.

AEC Bickering

By George Sokolsky

S. 2671 is a minor measure that packed a big wallop. It was a routine measure to authorize payment of salary to a commissioner of the Atomic Energy Commission, but Section 3, contained this clause:

SOKOLSKY

"Each member of the commission, including the chairman, shall have equal responsibility and authority in all decisions and actions of the commission, shall have full access to all information relating to the performance of his duties or responsibilities, and shall have one vote."

This act is now law and there can be no excuse for the withholding of AEC information from the AEC.

Unless Congress wishes to reorganize the Atomic Energy Commission, providing for a principal officer, the executive must abide by the law. It is not a good example for the country when the executive employs subterfuges to get around the law.

UNDER OUR Constitution, it is Congress not the executive that passes laws, that authorizes the organization of such commissions as the AEC, that places limitations upon them.

Even the Department of Defense, which rides roughshod over Congress so often, came into existence only by an act of Congress and can go out of existence by an act of Congress whenever Congress chooses to pass a new law on the subject.

While the Department of Defense is correct from every standpoint in its desire to get out of business which should be the function of private enterprise, Congress has every constitutional right to determine what the policy of the United States should be and whoever says that it is unconstitutional for the Congress to do what the Constitution clearly provides it should do, makes government by law impossible.

HE ALSO MAKES the orderly processes of government difficult. It ought to be obligatory for all top officials at least to read the Constitution. Too many officials look upon Congress as a board of directors carrying out the will of a powerful chairman. To prevent that is why the Founding Fathers separated Congress from the executive.

The AEC has become a bickering body when what it should be is a production agency. The quarrels between Lewis L. Strauss and Thomas E. Murray, now altogether out in public, are ridiculous and have no place in American affairs.

The fact that one is a Republican and the other a Democrat, one an Eisenhower appointee and the other a Truman holdover, has nothing to do with the production and use of atomic energy.

Both are men of high quality, of sincerity, or rare ability, devoted to the work they are doing. Strauss was a banker; Murray an engineer.

BOTH ARE MEN of wealth who are serving their government at considerable sacrifice. They do not even differ on matters of principle. Theirs is a personality clash, arising out of Strauss's assumption that he, as chairman, is the principal officer and head of the AEC.

The law does not provide for such a position but makes all commissioners equal. If Congress intended to change the law, it would have done so under the heavy pressure from the White House, which it resisted.

The Dixon - Yates situation brought this conflict to a head. It is now clear from testimony before congressional committees that Murray was not kept informed as to the Dixon-Yates development step-by-step although he, as an equal commissioner, was supposed to have a voice in any actions of the AEC.

Had Dixon - Yates gone ahead comfortably, without any trouble, the question of the authority and responsibility of the other commissioners would not have attracted so much attention.

BUT DIXON - YATES was handled so amateurishly by the White House — whoever managed it there — that the bickerings in the AEC became a question of national significance.

Undoubtedly it came to a head when the story was published in the newspapers, in a variety of forms, that Strauss asked Murray to resign. This never happened. At most Strauss took the position that if he, Strauss, could not agree with the policy of the President, he, Strauss, would get out. Murray could have interpreted it as a suggestion.

The AEC is not part of the executive. It is an independent agency of government, responsible to Congress, and over which Congress has appointed a watch - dog committee.

A commissioner is expected to be guided by the law and his conscience, not by the policy of the President.

Local Derby Winner Welcomed Home

LARRY CRAIG, Marion's representative to the All America Soap Box Derby at Akron, is congratulated by Robert Bush, president of the Marion Lions Club which sponsored the local race, for placing among the winners at the derby in Akron Sunday. Craig who took eighth in the derby, won two heats and then was beaten by a foot in his third race by a Detroit, Mich., youth who went on to finish as runner-up in the 18th annual derby.

Standing to the right of Bush and Craig is Harold Fetter, Lions Club member and derby director here. Craig was to have been a guest at the regular Monday noon luncheon of the Lions Club yesterday at Hotel Harding and given a police escort through Marion to the meeting where he was to be greeted by Lions Club members in front of the hotel. However he didn't arrive from Akron until 1 p.m. and received congratulations in front of his home at 752 E Center St. Standing on the grass are two prizes which Craig won at the Akron derby.

Redlegs Aim For Rise to Fifth Place

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Redlegs have their big chance tonight to move into fifth place in the National League.

They'll be in hand-to-hand combat with the Chicago Cubs, the current fifth-placers, who now are only a half game ahead of the Rhinelanders. A Cincinnati victory tonight would move the Reds four percentage points ahead of the Cubs and would leave them with two less defeats than the Cubs.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts indicated he will start Joe Black against the Bruins tonight and he was expected to be opposed by Jim Davis. It will be the first of a three-game series with the Cubs.

Particularly encouraging to the Redleg bosses has been Ted Kluszewski's surge of power, particularly with men on bases.

The big first sacker has begun to get hits when they count—not just those solo home runs—and it has moved him into second place in the league in the all-important runs-batted-in contest. He leads, of course, in home runs with 41 and is second in the National League in hitting with .326 to Richie Ashburn's .333. Big Klu has 96 RBI's.

The Redlegs didn't do much hitting last night, however, as they dropped a 2-0 exhibition game to the Detroit Tigers at Flint, Mich.

Milt Smith was the only Rhinelander to get as far as third base and he was cut down at the plate trying to score from second on a single by Smokey Burgess.

Bud Podbielan, out for weeks with a broken wrist, went five innings and allowed one of the Tiger runs. His performance indicated he might be about ready to give a life to a none too strong pitching staff.

Aussies Drop Italian Netters In Cup Action

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Australia is in the Davis Cup challenge round.

Two final singles matches are scheduled against Italy today, but they are meaningless. The Aussies gained the challenge round Monday when their doubles team of Rex Hartwig and Lew Hoad whipped Orlando Sirola and Nicola Pietrangeli, 7-5, 13-11, 7-5. That gave them a 3-0 lead in the best-of-five series.

The last two singles send Pietrangeli against Road and Sirola against Ken Rosewall.

The United States will defend the cup in the challenge round in Forest Hills, Aug. 26-28. The Americans won the cup back last year after the Aussies had held it four years running—1950, '51, '52, '53.

Jittery Mao

By Victor Riesel

HONG KONG

I've just driven up into the mountains above Kowloon where British barbed wire, underground bunkers, trick airfields, jeep patrols and special machinegun and searchlight towers guard this colony against sudden Communist invasion.

VICTOR RIESEL

On the Red side you can see the barbed wire fence, the pill boxes and the Chinese Soviet flag.

In between these signs of good will in the new era of no tension, are refugee farmers to whom I talked because they've come down from the Sovietized north recently.

One such fellow had a simple answer. He tried to live under the Communists. One day the Red authorities came to his blind brother. They asked the sightless man to pay taxes on his little chicken farm. The blind man said he couldn't. He had no money. His neighbors helped him raise what little food he did eat.

SO A REPRESENTATIVE of the Communist fatherland drew a revolver and shot the blind man dead. The Communist official said a blind man was no use to a struggling Socialist nation. So the blind man's brother and the rest of the family, took the family fortune (the equivalent of $1.03) and some 60 rabbits and slipped across the border to freedom.

The record of this grimness is in the files of the Kadoorie Agricultural Aid Association, run by the Hong Kong counterpart of Barney Baruch.

There were hundreds of such cases of insensate cruelty. Some who have suffered, walk into our consulate here with horrifying stories of terror.

Those I've spoken to all reveal one thing: Communist China has been shaky and jittery. The people had been turning against the regime because of these cruelties.

To quiet the people, the Mao Tse-tung government did two things, even as it talked so pleasantly, so civilized, to our envoys:

THE SECRET POLICE murdered thousands of educated middle class people in the past few months because this is the group which could plan a revolt.

And the Chinese Communist propagandists blamed all China's trouble and terror on the United States. They've smeared us inside China, even as they've buttered us up outside Asia.

The record is there. We called a truce. They haven't. Furthermore we called a truce at exactly the moment when the Peiping government was most shaky—and we have given them a breathing spell!

Word from across the border is that the top Commie officials can't trust their own party and government functionaries. They've just purged 40 per cent of them. Some are dead. Some are in slave battalions. Others have been put into "taking a direct part in socialist construction work." They're in the factories and mines.

RED CHINA'S own minister of security revealed that 450 Communist officials were killed by the government in 1954—and that was a lean season for official murder. Peiping's own data disclosed that 380 of these "were employed in government" and 68 were high Communist party officers.

This Peiping national secret police chief, an Oriental edition of the late Lavrenti Beria, is named Lo Jui-ching. He is the authority for the news of even more purges to come.

He said the other day that "anti-Communist agents have infiltrated into Communist party organizations" and that the U.S. put them there. So there will be more murder.

Meanwhile, the Chinese Communist government acts as though it were thoroughly frightened of some internal force. Key areas in Peiping and other big cities are heavily guarded by carbine carrying troops. These sectors are protected by heavy electrified barbed wire.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS, which never had a janitor out front, now have armed soldiers in their doorways.

Travel is virtually forbidden. No one can vacation more than 60 miles from his home.

Observers report that these jitters have unleased a terror which would make the Russian purges of 1936 seem tamer than an international chess match.

It is the opinion of our own U.S. experts in the Far East that the latest Red purge was unleashed when Washington agreed to meet with Peiping's representatives.

The conferences took the heat off the Chinese Communists on the international front. They could then concentrate on such domestic details as wholesale liquidation.

Church League Leaders Drop 13-7 Encounter

Church of the Brethren's Church League leaders were handed a 13-7 defeat by St. Mary in play at Garfield Park last night.

Greenwood tied Trinity for second spot, a half-game behind the leader, by whipping Epworth 8-5.

A 10-run first frame was difference in the St Mary win over Church of the Brethren. The winners added another tally in the second and two in the third while Brethren scored twice in the second, thrice in the third, once in the fourth and once in the seventh.

Gamble was victim of five hits by the winners, four walks and a pair of errors in the first. In all, he gave up 10 hits and his teammates committed seven errors.

Tom Moran held Church of the Brethren to six hits.

Every St. Mary player had at least one hit and all scored. Dick Gunder cracked out two hits while Steve Norris scored three times and Gene Patton, Larry Leser and Moran all scored twice.

Late inning scoring carried Greenwood to its win in the nightcap. Five runs in the fifth and two in the sixth overcame a 3-1 Epworth lead. The losers added their final markers in the fifth.

Miley copped the win, allowing Epworth 10 hits. Dan Day was the loser and gave up 11 safeties.

Mooney led the Greenwood attack with three hits. M. Donaugh, Miley and T. Donaugh all collected two hits. Don Poorman and D. Braggs both had two hits for the losers.

Erie No. 1 remained in district softball tournament competition by defeating Mount Vernon American Legion Post 136 4-1 last night at Mansfield.

The win moved them against Mansfield Gorman Rupp, three time district champ, tonight at 8 p.m. on Gorman Rupp Field. The Gorman Rupp squad dropped a 1-0 verdict to Mount Vernon Victory Market, defending district champs, in the other half of last night's double header.

Bud Thorpe's four-hit pitching and a three-run homer by Merle Daum powered Erie to the win over the Mount Vernon squad.

Erie's other run came on a walk to Dick Gherman, a sacrifice and hit by Dick Roseberry.

The winners collected five hits off opposition pitching.

Erie's win has cancelled softball action at Garfield Park tonight.

A win tonight will send the Erie nine into action against the Mount Vernon entry. Three more wins by any of the three teams will clinch the district title.

Order Restrains Mass Pickets at Dayton Plant

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Russell Leach has issued a temporary restraining order against mass picketing at the strike-bound Ohio Malleable Division of the Dayton Malleable Iron Co. here.

Tension at the plant increased yesterday as police forced massed pickets to permit some 70 employes to enter the plant.

Judge Leach also ordered strikers not to interfere with officers, employes and vehicles entering and leaving the plant.

The strike, by CIO Steeworkers Local 2645, began June 24 and stemmed from discharge or suspension of four union officers. That followed a dispute over eating lunch a half hour early in the foundry department.

Judge Leach's order forbids more than four pickets at the main gate of the plant or more than two at any other entrance.

A study of typing operations shows that an average typist has about 268,000 carriage returns a year to return the machine to the left hand margin.

Redleg Slugger Closing In on Batting Leader

NEW YORK (AP)—Richie Ashburn of the Philadelphia Phillies held a seven point lead over the onrushing Ted Kluszewski in the National League batting race today.

Kluszewski, the Cincinnati slugger, collected 16 hits, including five homers, in 32 trips last week. The outburst increased his league-leading home run total to 41 and boosted his batting average to .326.

Ashburn, meanwhile, gained five points to .333 on eight hits in 17 times at bat.

Brooklyn's Roy Campanella, the pace-setter last week, slumped 12 points to .322, still good for third place.

In the American League, Al Kaline of Detroit lost three points to .348, but he's way out in front of runnerup Harvey Kuenn of the Tigers. Kuenn dropped six points to .323. Vic Power of Kansas City is third with .319.

Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees tops the American League in home runs with 29.

Burglars Take Money

An undetermined amount of money was taken from the Beringer Gulf Service station at the corners of Routes 95 and 529 during the night, it was reported this morning to the Marion County sheriff's office.

Entry was gained by prying open a back door with a round bar. Tools and equipment in the station were not disturbed.

Schmidt Plans To Divorce His Two-Mate Wife

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The Korean War B29 gunner whose wife said she wed another man in the belief he was dead has decided he'll unravel the marital tangle by seeking a divorce.

But Airman Daniel Schmidt, 22, still hasn't made up his mind whether he will seek custody of his 2½ year old son, whom he saw for the first time after emerging from 32 months imprisonment in Red China.

Schmidt returned last week with 10 other airmen who were with him in the B29 when it was shot down.

His divorce decision was announced Monday by his attorney.

It followed a face-to-face meeting at which auburn-haired Una Schmidt-Fine, 20, refused to leave Alford Fine, 21, a logger.

"Dan wants whatever is best for the welfare of the boy," his attorney Howard Welch said, "and hasn't decided yet whether that would mean leaving him with the boy's mother or seeking custody."

Welch said Schmidt would probably seek a divorce on general grounds-including extreme cruelty.

"Just the fact that she's not living with Schmidt is enough ground for extreme cruelty," he said.

If Schmidt asks the court for the custody of Danny Jr. and wins, the youngster would live with Schmidt's mother Mrs. Nellie Peters, of Portland, Ore., Welch said.

Una's attorney Harold Berliner, of Nevada City, would not comment on the possibility of a divorce or a child custody fight.

lieved to be IRA members.

Fears grew that the swoops by the outlawed Irish Republican Army, dedicated to uniting northern and southern Ireland — by force if necessary — might lead to guerrilla warfare in Ulster, the six northern counties of Ireland still under the British crown.

Three Vehicles Found

Police already have found three of the vehicles believed used in the Arborfield raid.

One truck loaded with cases of ammunition was found on the day of the coup near Arborfield. Another truck and a passenger car used in the raid were found abandoned and empty in London earlier today.

The British War Office meantime clamped a tight guard on its armories and special watch was being kept on all means of exit from England in an effort to prevent smuggling of the arms to Ireland.

Some of the weapons seized today included Bren guns and rifles. They were packed in boxes apparently ready for transportation, police said.

FREMONT, Ohio (AP) — Sharon Cook, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Cook, was killed last night when she rode her bicycle into the side of a truck near here. The truck driver, Paul Williams, 44, was not held.

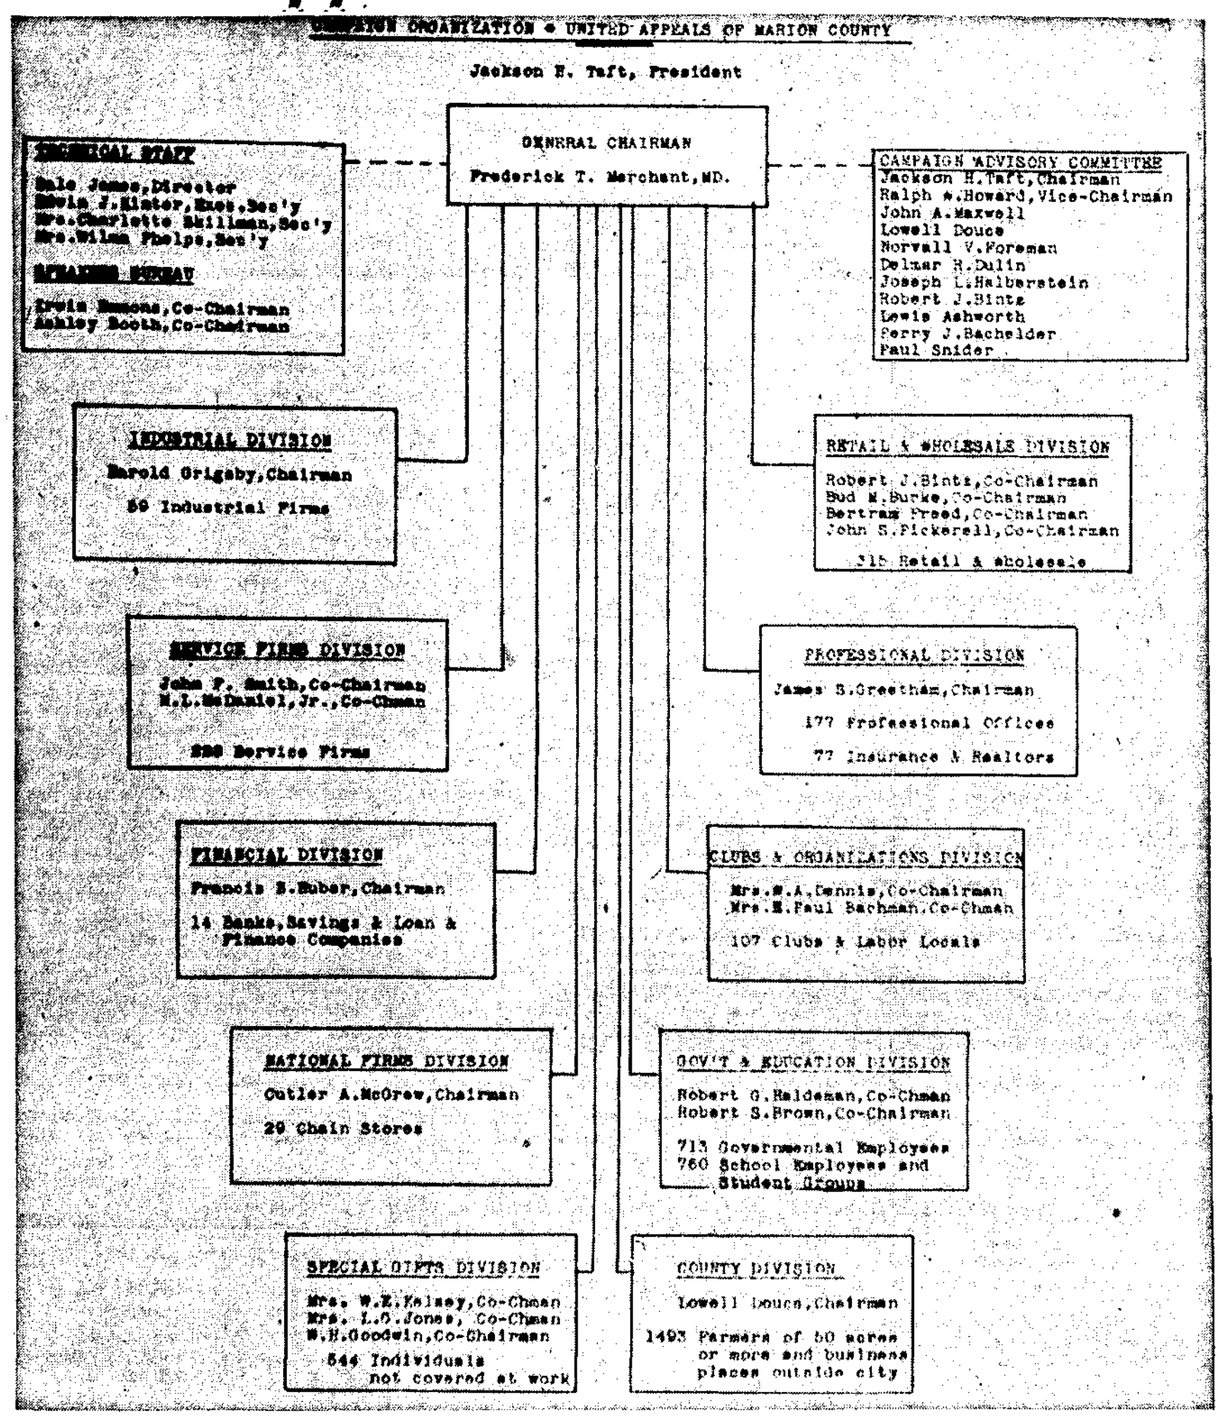
United Appeals Chairmen Plan Drive



FIRST PLANNING SESSION of division chairmen of the 1955 United Appeals drive, together with members of the campaign planning committee, as reflected in the above organizational chart, was held Monday night at the YMCA.

Dr. Frederick T. Merchant, general chairman, discussed plans for the approaching drive which is scheduled to get under way Oct. 3.

E. J. Kinter, executive secretary of the United Appeals, recounted steps already taken in preparation for the drive.

The 15 chairmen of the 10 divisions will be appointing team captains and other campaign workers in the near future. A series of training sessions for these workers will be held before the drive begins. Goal for the 1955 drive has been set at $174,937.

Crash

crash after hearing a report from a farmer living nearby, who said he heard the skidding noise after 5:15. The farmer did not suspect that an accident had occurred, however.

The accident scene is about 7 miles south of Marion. Marks on the highway indicate Grubaugh began applying his brakes on the north side of the bridge, skidding nearly 1,000 feet before his car hit the embankment. It then flew into the air and skidded another 150 feet before coming to rest on its side.

About 100 feet of farm fence and five steel posts on the Twigg farm were damaged.

Grubaugh was believed heading for Wright - Patterson Field at Dayton where he is stationed. He was recently discharged from the Air Force after serving a tour of duty, but had re-enlisted for another six years.

He is the son of Mrs. C. G. Scott of 682 Woodrow, and was home for a visit last night.

One Accident in City

Police today reported one minor accident in which the driver of one of the cars was arrested and charged with leaving the scene of an accident.

The mishap occurred in front of 698 N. Main St. at 12:17 p.m. Monday. A parked car owned by Albert Spangler of Tarlton, O., was struck in the left rear door by a car driven by Joseph R. Sheppard, 66, of 183 Chicago Ave., police reported. Sheppard was backing out of a private drive when he struck the Spangler car. He was arrested on the hit-skip charge and is to appear in Marion Municipal Court later.

Accident Report Delayed

An accident which occurred Friday was reported to the sheriff's office Monday by John Blashinsky, 20, of 403½ Chestnut St.

He told deputies that he was passing a car and a trailer loaded with corn on County Road 156, between Route 529 and County Road 160, when he had a flat tire and his vehicle went off the road.

It damaged about 10 feet of farm fence owned by Harvey Eichhorn of near Marion, and a telephone pole was broken off. Extensive damage resulted to the car.

Grandmother Is Deputy

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — Tom Green County's newest deputy sheriff is a red-haired grandmother who doesn't like guns but knows how to use them. Mrs. Capitola Stone, 45, a former Menard County treasurer named to the deputy post Monday, learned about guns as a west Texas ranch girl.

Major Meat Packer To Give Up Slaughtering Work in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Wilson & Co., one of the nation's major meat packers, says it plans to stop all slaughtering operations at the Chicago Stockyards.

The company said Monday it was going to discontinue meat and food operations at the stockyards and will move its general offices from the yards to the downtown district.

To Expand Other Plants

President James D. Cooney said the company was starting "a substantial expansion and modernization of its plants in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Albert Lea, Minn., and Omaha." No date was announced for the company's withdrawal from the stockyards.

The change will not affect the company's other plants at Los Angeles, Denver, Memphis, Oklahoma City and Kansas City, Kan.

Cooney said the Chicago plant has "sustained heavy operating losses, primarily in its meat divisions, in each of the past several years." He said expenses were high and "an antiquated and timeworn plant structure has stood in the way of any substantial reduction in these expenses." Many of the buildings, he added, are more than 50 years old.

Cooney said it would cost about eight million dollars to rehabilitate the property and "such an investment would still be unlikely to yield a satisfactory return." He added the cost of expanding and modernizing the plants at Cedar Rapids, Albert Lea and Omaha will be "substantially less" than the amount needed to rehabilitate the Chicago plant.

Cooney said the main reasons for expanding the three plants were: their good earnings record, their central location and their efficiency of operation.

Swift & Co., another major packer, halted hog slaughter in Chicago in 1952 but the firm processes pork here. It also slaughters cattle and sheep and has its headquarters in the stockyards district.

Swift kills hogs at other plants and the chilled carcasses are shipped to Chicago. The company also buys live hogs at Chicago and they are shipped to Swift plants in the East for slaughter.

Stopped in 1952

Another big packer, Armour & Co., stopped slaughter of lambs and sheep in 1952 in Chicago. But the company has completed a modernization program at its Chicago hog slaughtering plant.

Founded in 1853 and for many years known as Sulzberger and Sons Co., the Wilson firm was reorganized in 1916 and named for Thos. Wilson, president of Morris and Co., packers, who became its head.

Wilson has a large sporting good business and also operates the Wilson Laboratories, the pharmaceutical division which recently moved into a new building.

Wilson currently has been killing about 800,000 hogs annually and less than 1,500 cattle a week. Some 3,000 Wilson employes will be affected by the shutdown in Chicago. Cooney said Wilson employs from 23,000 to 24,000 workers at all the company's plants.

and wounded Monday. It said "the Portuguese authorities were obliged to meet violence with violence.

(The Portuguese communique said the Indian demonstrators were expelled, "although a few individuals may still lurk in less accessible areas." The communique added: "The Portuguese government formally protests to the government of India against the serious violations of sovereignty perpetrated.")

Police frequently clashed with the Bombay rioters.

Police Protect Consulate

A cordon of 300 police thrown around the Portuguese consulate, held off the demonstrators for two hours before they broke through.

Another mob surrounded the Taj Mahal Hotel, where many foreign tourists stay. Police wielding clubs charged and drove the crowd away. Other rioters smashed the doors of the Majestic Hotel.

Angry crowds surrounded offices of the Times of India, leading English-language newspaper in western India, as well as other newspapers and forced them to close.

Students and workers lay in the streets to halt public transport vehicles.

Other rioters stopped hundreds of automobiles and taxis and forced the occupants to get out and join the demonstration.

took note of its place in history.

Mrs. Michael Porter, bank cashier and housewife, put it this way:

"We feel as if our town and its people have been written right into the history books and naturally we are elated. It was a thrill to learn about it . . ."

Paul Cross, publisher of Arco's weekly newspaper, ran off 150 extra copies of last Friday's edition. Tourists snapped up the extra papers. Cross ran off 150 more front pages Monday, and they were selling fast too.

"So you see," he said, "people are still excited."

on Sundays does not warrant running the buses that day.

DETAILS OF Industrial Commission regulations and coverage have been worked out, Christian said, and added that everything for the operation of the buses was in order.

Operation of the buses will follow 18 days of no bus service in Marion. Springfield City Lines quit its operation here after 15 months in which it lost a reported $4,500.

Christian plans to cut costs of operation and hopes to make a success of the lines. He will do his own mechanical work, bookkeeping and supervisory work. He was employed as a mechanic with various bus companies operating in Marion for the last 10 years.

Fares on the buses will be 15 cents for adults and 10 cents for children or three rides for 25 cents. Transfers will be free.

All bus routes will originate at the Courthouse. Two buses will provide one-half hour service on East and West Center St., while a third bus will give one-hour service on the north and south loops. All buses will have short layover times at the Courthouse in order to allow passengers to transfer from one line to another.

CHRISTIAN WILL lease four buses from the Springfield firm. Three will be in regular operation while the fourth will be kept as a standby vehicle in case of emergency.

Christian plans to bring in extra service when school starts to handle the crowds of school children.

Faces Writer's Cramp

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown may get writer's cramp this Monday. He'll be in New York City to sign his name on each of 52,000 highway improvement bonds of $1,000 denomination. The 52 million dollars worth of bonds were sold recently by the Sinking Fund Commission, of which Brown is secretary. He'll only have to sign his name 5,200 times. A special machine will allow him to sign 10 bonds at once.

Four Crawford School Boards To Seek Study

BUCYRUS — A resolution, approved by local school boards from North Robinson, Leesville, Whetstone and Mount Zion, will be presented to the Crawford County school board at its Sept. 3 meeting, petitioning the county board for a study of the needs and problems of the four schools.

The resolution petitions the county board either to act as a committee to study the four schools' needs or to make provision for such a study by a citizens' committee.

According to the petitioners, appointment of a citizens' committee is provided in the Ohio General Code. It would consist of a representative from each local school board appointed by the local board.

The group, which included a number of board members and superintendents of all four schools, criticized the county board for what was termed "inaction" in previous controversies over merger of school districts.

Several spokesmen in the group contended that consolidation of school districts does not result in savings and that "the individual student becomes unimportant in a large district."

Actors

framework of the (theatrical) unions."

Unions repeatedly mentioned during the hearing were Actors Equity and the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists.

Five witnesses cited the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution, which protects a citizen from self-incrimination. Two who simply based their refusal on an alleged lack of authority on the part of the committee were Polan and actor George Tyne.

"I think the purpose of this committee is to throw fear into the theater," declared another actor, Martin Wolfson, 51, a veteran Broadway performer.

"This is an attack on the theater," said Stanley Prager, 38, a comedian now appearing in the musical hit "The Pajama Game." He continued, "I believe that what I think and say and with whom I associate is not this committee's concern."

However, Prager came the closest of all witnesses to answering a question. When asked if he had ever been a member of the Communist party, he replied:

"I'm a good American. I've never been a member of an organization that I believe seeks the overthrow of the United States government by force and violence."

Actor John Randolph drew laughs from the spectators when he said of his present acting job:

"Right now—and I mean nothing personal by this—I am in the Brattle Theater (Cambridge, Mass.) playing in 'Much Ado About Nothing.'"

When asked if he were now a Communist, Randolph replied: "I would love to give you that answer. I just don't think you have the right to ask that."

The last witness of the day was Randolph's wife Sarah Cunningham. She invoked the Fifth Amendment when asked about possible Communist associations or her knowledge of Communists in actors' unions. She added:

"I don't talk about people I know or people I don't know."

For the remainder of its hearings, scheduled to run until Friday, the committee had 20 or more show people under subpoena.

Rep. Walter Says Reds Work in Government

NEW YORK (AP)—Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) says testimony before the House Un-American Activities Committee which he heads has disclosed the existence of Communist cells in government circles.

He said Monday night the committee intends to launch a full-scale probe of Communist infiltration in government in February.

Preliminary investigation and examination of witnesses under oath has shown "Communist cells in the United States Senate, the War Labor Board and the National Labor Relations Board," Walter said.

He explained, he meant staff employes of the senate and not senators.

Ore Record Established

CLEVELAND (AP)—In the week ended yesterday Great Lakes carriers hauled 3,152,672 tons of iron ore—a record for any week of this or last shipping season, the Lake Superior Iron Ore Assn. reported today. The season iron ore shipment total to date is 47,495,290 tons—nearly 10 million above 1954 shipments to mid-August.

Home Building Drops; Credit Curb Is Reason

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Bureau of Labor Statistics attributes an 11 per cent drop in July home construction chiefly to a voluntary tightening of housing credit. The BLS reported Monday that nonfarm housing starts in July fell to 115,000 units from 129,000 in June.

Gallagher

cused me of murdering Jones," Gallagher said. "I told him to mind his own —— —— business."

Jenkins questioned Gallagher about having told an Army interviewer this year that life in the prison camp was "a case of dog eat dog — everybody for themselves.

Worked in Cliques

"What I mean was," Gallagher replied, "there were groups there —of four or five men—who stuck together and took care of each other. They said 'To hell with everybody else in the camp.'

"I wouldn't say everybody was out to cut each other's throat, as you seem to imply."

Gallagher has emphatically denied having caused the death of fellow prisoners.

In testimony at his court-martial Monday, Gallagher, 23, said of prosecution witnesses:

"They're not lying — they're just not remembering. That happened years ago (in 1950) — if their memory isn't as good as mine, I can't help that."

Accused of Murder

The reddish blonde Brooklyn soldier is accused of collaborating with his Red captors and of second-degree murder in the alleged deaths of three prisoners.

Before Gallagher took the stand, a score of prosecution witnesses testified that he sought favor with the Communists and that his treatment of three prisoners caused their deaths. They said he threw Cpl. Donald Thomas Baxter, Waukon, Iowa, and Cpl. John William Jones, Detroit, out of the prisoners' squalid hut and let them freeze to death. Both men were weak and ill with dysentery.

Gallagher admitted he and another man had carried Jones out of the hut after the sick soldier failed to respond to orders to clean himself. However, Gallagher said, he carried Jones back in again after about 15 minutes.

Gallagher denied putting Baxter out and said that on the contrary he had helped carry him into the hut after he collapsed in the compound.

Denies Beating Man

Gallagher also denied doing anything that would kill the third man, previously unnamed but whom Gallagher called Dunn. Other witnesses said Gallagher hung the man on a wall peg and beat him, after which the man died.

Gallagher testified that he had put Dunn on the peg to help him exercise and overcome the effects of pneumonia. He said the man was too weak to stand without support and he had tied him to the peg with a scarf.

He tried to get Dunn to exercise on the advice of a British doctor, he said, but the sick man did not want to. He said he finally gave up trying to force him, and the man died.

Gallagher also denied that he advised a Communist instructor to shoot a squad of POWs who resisted Communist indoctrination or that he ever willingly spread Communist propaganda.

action. Second phase is readying of "on site" gun locations. "On site" is defined as meaning that a series of antiaircraft gun emplacements would protect the major strategic areas of the state as well as the approaches to those areas in smaller cities.

First of these site locations are being readied in the Cleveland area for members of the 179th AAA Battalion. Only general location of the sites are to be made public.

The gun emplacements will be manned around the clock by guardsmen, with full-time personnel being given Civil Service status. If the battery is mobilized, they would revert to the National Guard status.

Sites for the proposed gun emplacements in Ohio were selected by the Army Corps of Engineers, but the Cleveland area sites are the first to near actual operation.

Witness Identifies Two in Mob Which Slew UP Newsman

SINGAPORE (AP)—A deaf and dumb witness identified two Singapore men today as members of a mob which killed an American newsman last May 12.

Ordered to stand trial were Ong Ah Too, a truck driver, and Suppiah Subramaniam, unemployed. They were charged with being members of an unlawful assembly that resulted in the slaying of Gene Symonds, 29, Southeast Asia manager for the United Press, and three other persons.

The mob was demonstrating in support of a bus strike. Symonds went to the scene to cover it and was beaten and kicked to death.

The mute witness, Lim Yen Lin, testified at a preliminary hearing through an interpreter. He identified Suppiah as the man who pulled off Symonds' watch after the American had been beaten.

Ong and Suppiah reserved their defense for the regular trial scheduled at the next session of the Assizes Court.

Nine presidents were members of the Episcopal church.

U.S. Tells How It Produces Its Uranium Metal

GENEVA (AP)—The United States told the world in detail today how to make high-purity uranium metal—a basic material for atomic energy production—on a large scale and at low cost.

The operational technique was described at the 72-nation atoms-for-peace conference by Dr. H. A. Wilhelm of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission's contract laboratory at Iowa State College.

He said the description was intended to be detailed enough to allow uranium metal producers in any country of the world to duplicate the process.

The process, he said, involved mixing uranium compound—uranium tetrafluoride — with magnesium metal and placing the mixture in a furnace to initiate a "reduction" reaction leading to the production of uranium metal itself.

Uranium metal, as distinguished from raw uranium ore, is the basic material of atomic energy production for both peaceful and military uses.

Wilhelm hinted that the method he described played the key role in the wartime production of the metal for the atom bomb.

Traffic Cases

Seven motorists were fined a total of $188 when they appeared to answer traffic violation charges Monday in Marion Municipal Court.

Heaviest fine was levied against Ray Newman, 43, of near Upper Sandusky. Newman pleaded guilty to drunken driving and was fined $100 and costs, sentenced to five days in the county jail and given a three years' suspension of his driving rights.

A fine of $25 and costs was levied against Bonafacio Nieto, 26, of 537 E. Farming St. when he pleaded guilty to driving without an operator's license.

Each of the other four motorists were fined $15 and costs. They were: Rebecca Jo Mathews of Upper Sandusky, unsafe operation; Clarence G. Scott, 45, of near Marion, stop sign violation; Harry F. Miller, 22, of near Marion, illegal passing, and Estel C. Baker, 26, of near Marion, insufficient brakes.

Harvey L. Hecker of near Marion was fined $3 and costs on a charge of failure to pay parking tickets.

District Traffic Arrests

Three arrests were made outside of Marion County Monday by state highway patrolmen from the Marion post.

James W. Fawcett, 21, of near Mount Vernon, and Max F. Dart, 39, of near Ashley, were arrested on charges of permitting an unlicensed minor to operate a vehicle. Fawcett is to appear Wednesday before Mount Gilead Mayor Emery Murphy and Dart before Mayor Ted Anderson of Ashley.

Carol Irene France of near Mount Gilead was arrested on a charge of having no operator's license and is to appear Wednesday before Mayor Murphy.

Ike Heads for Fish Streams in Rockies

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower gets down to real vacationing today with a trip high into the Rocky Mountains for several days of trout fishing.

The President arranged to travel by automobile shortly after noon to Fraser, Colo., about 70 miles northwest of Denver on the western slope of the Continental Divide for a stay at the secluded Byer's Peak Ranch of an old friend, Aksel Nielsen.

Wednesday Eisenhower will be joined there by his 7-year-old grandson David, who stands to get some expert advice from the President on how to cast dry and wet flies for trout. The youngster, vacationing now at a boys camp at Estes Park, Colo., never has done any fishing.

In advance of departing for Fraser, the President planned a brief stop at this Lowry Air Force Base office, and then a round of golf at Denver's Cherry Hills Country Club.

Galion Hospital Reports Progress Under New Plan

GALION — Goals and accomplishments sought when Galion Community Hospital was organized under a board of trustees last Jan. 1 and the city hospital was leased by the city to the new board, are being realized.

This was revealed in the first semi-annual report which the hospital board made to the city administration and legislators Monday night at the city building. Under the lease, the trustees will make such a report to the city twice a year.

E. Paul Monroe, president of the board of trustees of the hospital, opened the meeting. The report was read by David J. Wires, hospital administrator, with the approval of Monroe. It showed great improvement in the physical make-up of the hospital; that the hospital has been self-supporting during the first six months under the new organization despite continuously increasing cost of operation; and the addition of much new equipment which has been made through private donations rather than through actual operation of the hospital.

THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS illustrate the efficiency under trusteeship. There were many delays under city management due to legislative procedure whereby larger purchases required receiving bids after passage of an ordinance and the employment of even an accountant or a technician required a city ordinance. Mayor Francis C. Schalip commented that "work is being done by the hospital board that the city was unable to do."

Hospital Administrator Wires declared "We are planning a long range program — making a study of the over-all needs of the community for a hospital and we are tackling these one at a time."

Pertinent facts gathered from the report showed 103 per cent occupancy of beds at the hospital for the first three months of the year and the need for 15 more beds for medical and surgical cases.

Since Jan. 1, there have been 130 projects completed, the report pointed out. Six major programs have been undertaken which include establishment of a nursing department with appointment of a director of nurses; addition of a registered medical record librarian has been employed to have charge of medical records; a hospital accountant has been employed in a complete reorganization of the business office; the medical staff of the hospital has been organized according to an approved constitution and by-laws as recommended by the American Medical Association and the American Hospital Association; the board of trustees has subdivided itself into eight working committees to handle various and complicated problems of a modern hospital.

In assuming financial responsibility of the hospital, the board has established certain policies by setting up a credit and collection section in the business office. It was reported that adequate insurance has been maintained on the hospital, personnel and board, as requested by the city lease.

SOME OF THE 130 projects completed to date were mentioned in the report. These include the landscaping of the hospital grounds by a committee of Garden Club members of the city; relocation of the main lobby, its decoration and furnishing, which was financed by the Women's Hospital Auxiliary and two local donors; personalization and re-decoration of 12 patient rooms and first floor halls by the auxiliary; a new children's ward established, with decorations and furnishings by the auxiliary; a call system re-vamped and re-wired; a physician call system installed; cafeteria service set up for hospital personnel; purchase of a new 300 M.Z. X-ray unit along with a new 30 M. A. portable X-ray unit besides remodeling and redecoration of the X-ray department. Purchase of the X-ray machine at approximately $12,000 was made possible through anonymous contributions of local citizens.

A central stock room with an inventory control system is another innovation at the hospital, the report showed. A receiving and shipping area has been established, offices have been centralized for efficiency; the hot water system has been replaced at a cost of over $3,000; a supervised drug room has been established; an air-condition unit, a private donation, has been placed in the central scrub room of surgery. These were noted among the many improvements to physical makeup of the hospital.

The six-months' report showed a total of 1,556 admissions; 10,764 patient days of service; 659 operations; 512 out-patient services; 40,281 meals served; 79,129 pounds of laundry pressed.

The work by Administrator Wires was highly commended by E. P. Monroe, board president. Harmony of the board and its co-operation also was praised by both Monroe and Wires.

ALWAYS TAKE YOUR TIME

Enjoy yourself! It's so important to take your time when eating and to let your food digest in the normal healthy way. When you cram your food down, you are not doing your food justice or yourself either. So take your time at noon and take a full hour; you have time then to eat at The Ritz and have a good wholesome meal.

Grocery Clerks Receive Advice of Government

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Department of Agriculture has issued a 38-page booklet telling grocery clerks how to become better grocery clerks.

The department's advice boils down to "work smarter—not harder." This conclusion was reached after a survey conducted by the research division of the Agricultural Marketing Service. The researchers had assistance from many individuals and organizations in the retail food industry and from Michigan State College.

The survey was designed to improve the efficiency and productivity of retail food store employes through better techniques of personnel management.

The department said participation of grocery clerks in programs designed to improve their work resulted in wider acceptance of improved methods, better use of work time, and increased sales per clerk-hour. The survey showed that an employe will accept new methods more quickly and smarten up more rapidly if he can discuss them openly with his manager and feels that he is a part of the program to get better use of his time.

Method Found To Save Butter by Use of Yeast

WASHINGTON (UP) — Agricultural scientists have discovered a method of retarding rancidity in butter and thereby have increased a market for dairy products.

Butter candies have posed a long-time problem to manufacturers and retailers because butter in candies, which usually are not refrigerated, begins to turn rancid after several weeks or months. Eventually the candy becomes unsalable.

The scientists, in cooperation with the National Confectioners Association, found that adding only three per cent yeast or special oat flour to butter retards rancidity and allows candy to keep two to six times longer at ordinary room temperatures.

The Department of Agriculture said these additions, used in small quantity, give no detectable taste to most candies.

Girl's Identity, Cause of Death Still Not Known

Body Discovered by 2 Fishermen in Boone County 'Lover's Lane'

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The identity and cause of death of a young woman whose nude, decomposed body was found Sunday in a secluded Boone County "lover's lane" still is a mystery today.

Preliminary phases of an autopsy last night failed to disclose any clues either as to the cause of death or identity.

Dr. Robert Ritterhoff, pathologist at St. Elizabeth Hospital here, said there would be a further examination and chemical tests today.

FBI Checks Clues

The FBI at Washington also has been asked to examine a cardboard packing crate under which the body was found and dirt which was around the body.

Dr. Ritterhoff said the preliminary examination showed no indications of a gunshot wound or of injury to the skeleton. He said decomposition apparently accounted for the fact it originally had been thought the young woman's hands had been hacked off. He also blamed decomposition for what had been thought to be neck wounds.

The body was found Sunday by two fishermen.

Dr. Ritterhoff said the body apparently was that of a "young" woman, about five feet, two inches tall and with dark brownish hair. He said she was delicate-boned.

Numerous persons viewed the body yesterday.

Thinks It's His Daughter

Douglas E. Kidwell of Cincinnati said he believed it was that of his daughter, Brenda, a 16-year-old high school pupil who disappeared July 3. He said his daughter's hair was of about the same color and that she was of about the same size and build.

There were discrepancies in the descriptions of three other missing girls.

Boone County Sheriff Byron Kinman said he also had had calls from families in Sioux City, Iowa, and Huntington, W. Va., reporting missing girls and seeking information.

Boone County attorney William P. McEvoy said a search of the area where the body was found failed to turn up any trace of the dead woman's clothing. He expressed belief the body had been carried to the wooded area in a sack.

Woman's Pills Worked Though Method Didn't

WELLINGTON, England (AP) — Mrs. Josephine Leagy, 31, admitted in court she had forged a prescription for 320 slimming tablets —to trim her 238 pounds to something more suitable to her five-foot height.

The tubby housewife told the judge Monday her doctor prescribed only 60 pills at a time, and she was not getting the desired results.

The judge fined her 6 pounds ($16.80.)

Mrs. Leahy is now down to 168.

Ohio Congressman Predicts 'Drastic Changes' in Russia

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio congressman predicts "drastic changes" in Russia within three months.

Republican Clarence J. Brown said he based his conclusion on "Washington whispers."

Brown spoke last night before the annual banquet of the Ohio Convention of the Junior Order, United American Mechanics.

"We are seeing the beginning of the break-up of the world Communist conspiracy," he said.

Brown did not expand on his statement, "we may expect some drastic changes in the Soviet union in the next 90 to 120 days."

He told The Associated Press, "I said as much as I wanted to say." He declined to say if by changes he referred to Russia's policy or a governmental shakeup.

Brown added, "I think you've seen a lot of changes in the last 120 days. There's a great unrest and ferment in Russia that's going to bring changes rather rapidly from what I've heard."

He told a reporter the changes would be for the good of the free world "unless the Russians are playing a sinister game."

Fined for False Alarms

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — Sixteen false fire alarms in recent weeks added up to $1,150 in fines, 10-day jail sentences, and probation for three young Sandusky men yesterday. Municipal Judge William H Smith imposed the biggest fine, $500, on Charles Chamberlain, 22, whose parents were aided by a community fund drive after fire destroyed their home 11 years ago Paul Guerra, 22, was fined $150, and Raymond Demres, 21, $400.

Highway Spending Has Grown Tremendously in Last 50 Years

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — How much road construction could you get completed today with $10 000.

Well, not very much. But that was the amount with which the first Ohio highway department director had to work His name was Sam Houston (not the famed Texas general, however.)

It has been 50 years since Houston's administration when the department was first organized And the present director, Samuel O. Linzell, took this golden anniversary occasion to release advance figures on Ohio's highway construction program

From that first $10 000 the legislature appropriated for road construction around 1905, the figure has grown to 115 million dollars in 1954 By the end of this year, Linzell said, 185 million dollars in road contracts will have been let, and increase of roughly 62 per cent over the past year.

"And now we have reached, in the years 1954-55, expenditures in the neighborhood of 300 million dollars for construction," said the director. "This is in keeping with the future expansion of highway work and the new philosophy of roadway systems that our modern era demands."

Linzell said figures from the national highway users conference "show Ohio stands second in the United States in estimated percentage increase in highway construction from 1952 through 1956 Only New York surpasses the Ohio program of accomplishments and projections I might add that this does not include any turnpike construction in Ohio"

Stressing the current department work load, Linzell added

"Our nationally recognized position as leaders in the field of highway engineering is well merited, and the staff, along with myself, look forward to the challenge of the next 50 years."

One nice thing about being in a foreign country is that you don't have to pretend to understand the politics, the way you do at home

Man Confesses Killing Mother

Was 'Always Picking On Me,' Tells Police

DENVER (AP)—James B. Smith, 22, Newton, Iowa, has signed a statement admitting he killed his 67-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Daisy Betterton, at her home in Attica, Iowa, Saturday, Detective Lt. Roy Tangye reported today.

Tangye said the youth told interrogators Monday night he beat Mrs. Betterton to death with a spade "because she was always picking on me."

No charges were filed immediately.

Smith was arrested Monday on a warrant issued by authorities in Knoxville, Iowa.

The woman could not be located by neighbors Saturday. Blood stain and a bloodstained spade were found in her home. Her body was found trussed, beaten and partially burned near a trash barrel at a roadside picnic park near Arapahoe, Neb., this morning.

At Knoxville, Sheriff Jim Van Hemert said Smith was released from the veterans home for the mentally ill at Knoxville only two months ago.

Mechanics Order Votes To Change Name to Sentinels

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Convention of the Junior Order, United American Mechanics, voted last night to change the name of the organization to the American Sentinels.

The name - changing proposal was adopted at the order's national convention in Cincinnati last June. It requres a ratification vote by a majority of state groups for approval. If approved, the name will be changed after July 1, 1957.

Proponents of the change say the present name, adopted in 1853, is too long. They say it has always been a misnomer in that it conveys the impression the order is a youth movement or a group of mechanics, obscuring the patriotic principles of the organization.

Nominated unopposed for state posts yesterday were:

Leslie Harrison, Martins Ferry, state councilor (Five-year term): August Riner, Cincinnati, vice councilor; Fred Mourey, Akron, secretary; Otto F. Haines, Tiffin, treasurer; William E. Burdsall, Hamilton, chaplain; Milton S. Proctor, Middletown, conductor; E. E. Lenhart, East Sparta, Warden: Harry Leathley, Dayton, inside sentinel; and Charles Grove Jr., Terre Haute, outside sentinal (all one-year terms).

Cleveland Youth Loses Armadillo

CLEVELAND (AP)—The classified ad in the Cleveland Plain Dealer simply says "armedillo, lost," followed by a street address and a phone number.

The ad was placed by 12-year-old John Scott, who really lost an armadillo. It's spelled with an "A," John.

An Armadillo, a burrowing, nocturnal mammal with its body encased in bony plates, is native to South and tropical America.

John, who got his from a mail order outfit in Florida, says it looked "like a watermelon with a nose."

He kept it for a month in a box and fed it bananas, oatmeal, pears and worms. Last Friday it burrowed off into the nocturnal air.

The ad hasn't located the armadillo, but John has got several calls from people who wanted to know what they should look for.

Bakers Get Pay Boost

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A package increase of 28 cents an hour for 900 bakery employes in Cleveland has been negotiated by the AFL Bakery and Confectionary Workers Union and seven large bakeries, union spokesman Harvey Friedman said last night. He said the package includes a wage hike of 10 cents an hour, retroactive to July 1, another 10-cent increase next July 1, establishment of a pension fund through employers payments of five cents an hour for each employee beginning July 1, 1957.

Police Under Pressure

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland police detectives were told yesterday to make at least three felony arrests a month, or get put back in uniform. In a new rulebook, Detective Chief James E. McArthur said a detective who makes fewer than three arrests a month "will be presumed to lack either ability or energy." He continued, "of course, the mere number of arrests is not the only thing I take into consideration."

Sam Boulmetis, leading rider at Monmouth Park, was urged by a friend to become a jockey because of his size.

CIO Files Petitions For Vote Question

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio CIO Council has filed supplemental petitions with Secretary of State Ted W. Brown to place on the Nov. 8 ballot a proposal to further increase unemployment compensation.

Brown said the petitions will be sent to county election boards to check validity of signatures, which the CIO said numbered 132,251. Brown said 77,934 valid signatures are needed to place the proposal before the voters.

The recently adjourned legislature raised benefits $3 to $33 a week. The CIO had petitioned the legislature to raise compensation to $50 a week. The supplemental petitions were filed yesterday as a result of the legislature not acting on the CIO proposal.

Caledonia Residents Prepare For Mobile X-Ray Unit's Visit

Committees are at work publicizing the Caledonia X-Ray program for Wednesday. Mrs. Robert K. Clark and Mrs. Ray Lyon are handling publicity. C. D. Pilkington heads a committee for obtaining volunteers to register people coming for free chest X-rays.

Walter M. Lindsay heads the transportation committee. He will be located at the office of Douce & Co., Inc., to receive calls from people who cannot get to the unit because of lack of transportation.

The Martel committee is visiting every home in the area telling residents of the free service and leaving schedules.

In Caledonia, Mrs. Jack Wagner has obtained the services of the members of the three Child Conservation Leagues to call every resident by phone to remind them of the service. X-ray schedules have already been distributed in the village and letters have gone to the homes of the rural residents.

The mobile unit will be located at the northeast corner of the square in Caledonia and will operate between the hours of 2-4:45 p.m. and 6:30-9:15 p.m.

"Our goal," said Lowell Douce, general chairman of the joint committees, "is to have 750 people 15 years of age and over X-rayed."

Radio and Television

ERIC SEVEREID
Pinch-Hitting for John Crosby

Dear John Et Al

It has been my somewhat neurotic destiny to labor in nearly every journalistic medium except lavatory wall space — newspapers, magazines, books, radio, now television—and I once wrote a pretty sharp handbill for a college play that flopped. But I have never signed on as a television critic. This should deter me from giving advice to critics but I have noticed that critics suffer no pause from the fact that they have never tried to put a television show together.

So, freely granting you are often right about TV journalism, often instruct us and hold us to higher standards, let me enter a few timid caveats.

I've just been through Darkest Geneva with camera and benzedrine and could plead temporary insanity before any jury of my Geneva peers.

AS A FRENCH reporter once said to a politician at the Democratic convention, I have a tooth to pick with you. For example: A TV documentary series starts up, new in scope and idea. What do you do, most of you? You review the first show. You say it smells. You are right.

It goes on, gets better, is different every time. Do you come back to it and do another review? Many of you do not. You have treated it as if it were a book or a play, unchangeable, bad today, therefore bad tomorrow. And this, fellows, isn't cricket. (I'm writing from London.)

You are journalists yourselves, up the hard way. This makes you both more authoritative and more merciless on the journalistic enterprises of TV than you are, say, on the cops'n robbers stuff. You have a stern, parental air of "this hurts me more than it does you" when you lambast a news or documentary show.

But I am developing a suspicion that the newspaper-to-TV relationship has little parent-offspring relationship. More like Earth-Mars.

THE GENEALOGY is direct — newspapers - books - magazine-radio pieces, but then come TV journalism and you jump off into strange space. It is not only more vivid and powerful than any other form, it is also fantastically elusive, baffling and difficult.

A journalist can plot a direct course from idea to typewriter to the printed page or radio script, and if he is able and experienced, he knows he is going to reach his goal at least approximately. He has no such assurance in planning a television news or documentary program. In fact, he has no assurance whatsoever.

Between the producer's idea and the final film, if it's a film show, a dozen instruments on his control board, such as camera, sound track, lighting, airplane schedules, cutting room and developing laboratory can go off beam.

Generally, he doesn't really know if he's got a show, or how much of a show, until the final screening; and then it's too late if he hasn't. This isn't the movie business where you can do a hundred retakes to get it right. We've got to catch history on the fly.

None of us has yet found a way to persuade a president to fly back to Geneva and do it all over again for a better take, or to persuade Senators X and Y to please restage their debate with the same fervor because the sound gear was off and both voices came out soprano.

SO THE DEADLINE arrives and the producer finds he has a hole seven minutes wide in his show. Just happens that the beautifully planned, beautifully performed centerpiece of his half-hour film show came out black from the laboratory. So he does the only thing possible, the same thing your editor has to do when your column arrives one-third too short. He makes do. He patches.

Next day the producer reads the critics' column. There he is scolded for "falling back on the easy habit of using film just because it happens to be lying around in the library.

"TV journalists simply must learn to make their film serve the idea, not the idea serve their film." The producer spends the rest of the day yelling at his wife and beating his children.

If the crucial film is only half lousy and he uses it, some critic will deplore the technical incompetence of himself and his crew—"marred an otherwise fine program." If he has the narrator just talk over the gap, some critic will firmly remind him that television must be something more than just a radio show with a studio camera trained upon it.

AFTER A YEAR of this I'm still more surprised when a show comes off as planned than when it doesn't. I'm inclined to think more shows are marred by breakdowns than by faulty concept of editing, though God knows we make mistakes enough.

I'm not suggesting you should lower your standards of judgment or hold us to anything less than what ought to be in the finished product you must judge. I do wish to suggest that fewer failures are due to unimaginativeness and more to the practical difficulties of a new, unmastered journalistic form that some of you suspect. Come backstage sometime and I'll show you what I mean.

But meanwhile, for heaven's sake, don't pull your punches. They help us more than you suspect. In fact, if TV critics—movie critics too, for that matter—had as much influence on the product as do theater critics, maybe all of us the public included, would be better off.

Blimp Lands In Farm Field

Damaged Craft Had Drifted Fifteen Miles

LAKEHURST, N. J. (AP)—A damaged runaway Navy blimp was set down in a cornfield by three crew members Monday night after drifting helplessly for 15 miles.

None of the three civilian crewmen aboard the 350-foot airship was hurt. The craft had broken away from ground crews after an initial landing at the Lakehurst Naval Air Station in which her landing gear and both propellers were smashed. Five crewmen jumped to the ground. The pilot, copilot and a mechanic stayed aboard to dump the ship's gasoline and water supply.

The Navy said this made the blimp too light to remain aground. Off it went, and floated helplessly for 93 minutes. It was finally brought down by releasing helium gas.

Mary, Queen of Scots had so many wigs she had a special coach to carry them when she traveled.

Some Economists Worried

Installment Buying Rush Sends Sales, and Debt, Up

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—You walk along the street and see a sign on a good used car: "Only $5 down."

You look at a new house and the builder tells you: "If you're a veteran, $200 down is all you need." (Until recently you didn't need even that.)

Second of a Series

Your radio blares: "Install a window cooler now, payments start next April."

An add in the paper says: "Wall-to-wall carpeting for the entire house at $4 a week."

Next to striking oil, it's the easiest way man ever has devised for raising his standard of living—and fast.

It's also one of the easiest ways of getting beyond your depth if you don't watch your step.

THE VAST majority of Americans are meeting their weekly or monthly payments. Finance companies say the record of installment payments on cars is now the best in history. In June, when a record $1,766,000,000 of credit was extended to new car buyers, others were paying in $1,190,000,000 on previous loans.

The percentage of delinquencies and repossessions remains at a remarkably low level — and stable over the years. But as the total of consumer debt rises, the total amount of delinquencies tends to rise also, even if at the same low percentage.

The American Collectors Assn. says that six million American families are delinquent on payments for one or more things they've bought on time.

An agency that specializes in helping families after they get in a financial mess estimates that 10 million families are pinched by the debts they've piled up with overenthusiasm.

The quality of osme installment loans in recent months worries administration officials. Terms have been getting easier — down payments lower, maturity times extended.

—:—

THIS HAS been due largely to sales competition. Almost all kinds of consumer goods are in abundant supply. To move them, merchants and dealers have been luring customers by making payments smaller — extending them over more months, but making total interest charges higher in the long run.

This widens markets greatly and keeps the business boom rolling.

Democratic Presidential Type?

If the Democratic choice of a presidential candidate for 1956 is going to lie between Adlai Stevenson and Averell Harriman, as seems likely at this date in 1955, a line of speculation is clearly marked.

Stevenson and Harriman, like Franklin D. Roosevelt, are men whose circumstances of birth and rearing protected them from the competitive struggle.

Like Roosevelt, both were able to take advantage of favorable financial circumstances in their family background to look upon all careers, including politics and public service as a vocational interest. They were not under economic pressure.

Whether or not this type of man has the inside track in Democratic presidential politics is the line of speculation being marked by the fact that Roosevelt and Stevenson have been the party's only nominees since Alfred E. Smith's time and either Stevenson or Harriman seems likely to continue the same pattern in 1956.

The Republican candidates during the same period—Herbert Hoover, Alfred M. Landon, Wendell Willkie, Thomas E. Dewey and Dwight Eisenhower—were men whose attitudes were shaped by the competitive struggle.

Something like the pattern of the British Labor party may be developing here—a political party appealing to working people but managed by leaders like Clement Attlee whose attitude toward the struggle for existence is based on academic reasoning.

Geography Is Not Government

International City Managers Association reports slow but sure progress in the development of metropolitan area government, the most neglected governing necessity in the United States.

Gradually, heavily-populated areas where governments are a mish-mash of overlapping jurisdictions will be brought under single authority. It is being recognized that government is for people, not geography.

Every grown up city is surrounded these days by suburbs, sometimes using their own facilities but more often relying in whole or in part on the city for essential services. Counties and townships, school districts, water districts, sewer districts — all are mixed into a tangled web of confusion based on geographic boundaries instead of the needs of the people who live inside and outside the boundaries.

The solution has been known for a long time —metropolitan area government, in place of city, township, county and special district government.

The problem itself now is in the serious-study stage, according to the City Managers Association. Seattle, Los Angeles, Toledo, Houston, Chicago and Detroit are preparing plans to consolidate governing authority so their taxpayers can get more for their money. Eventually, all taxpayers in metropolitan areas will demand the same thing.

Presidential Index

How many strokes President Eisenhower uses up in a golf match could be a reliable index of his physical condition, if anyone cared to get scientific about it.

The President's golf improves as he relaxes, the same as the game played by most golfers. Despite those who seem to believe no one in an official position is entitled to relax, the American people have everything to gain if they can keep their presidential golfer from shooting over 90.

Unlike ordinary jobs, the presidency calls for 24-hour-a-day duty, 365 days a year. There is no way for a president to call it a day, change his clothes and forget the cares of his position. He takes his puzzles and worries to bed with him at night and gets up with them in the morning. He is never released from responsibility.

Whatever he can do to enable him to feel at ease with the world is worth the doing, whether it is playing poker with personal friends, fishing, yachting, or golfing. Presidential recreation is a bipartisan project in the United States.

Zanobia Was No Zephyr

Until 100 years ago, or less, not a single case of appendicitis was reported. Appendicitis caused no deaths, no illnesses.

This was because appendicitis was unknown. People who had pains in their abdomens, who ran fevers and either got well or died had inflammation of the bowels, not appendicitis.

Another thing they didn't have in the dark ages of the past was intimate knowledge of hurricanes. They didn't know about winds that blew in circles, storms that had "eyes," wind velocities of more than 100 miles an hour and weather charts.

They knew that when storms brewed in the storm quarter it was a good idea to tie down everything that was loose. But high winds were not national emergencies. A town could blow down and be rebuilt with no fluster and flurry outside the immediate neighborhood.

If the sum total of all the improvements is an impression that hurricanes are a recent invention of Beelzebub to sadden the lot of mankind in the eastern United States, that, too, must be a modern improvement.

In any case, it's modern.

Hand-Picked Candidates

By David Lawrence

Big City Bosses Now Running Democratic Party

They used to handpick their presidential candidate in a "smoke-filled room" with a lot of political bosses sitting around in a Chicago hotel—at least the Republicans did it that way. But it's surprising now to see the Democrats hand picking their presidential candidate for 1956 in a luxurious estate near the shores of Lake Michigan with a group of political bosses — the Democratic governors of 26 states —sitting around.

Lawrence

Time was when the Democratic party orators proudly boasted that they were the party of the "peepul." But the "peepul" nowadays do not seem to have much to say about it. The so-called presidential-preference primary system, which was legislated largely through the efforts of "progressives," seems to have been shunted aside in favor of the same old system—the selection of a candidate by the bigwigs of the party.

It so happens that former Gov. Stevenson was given the nomination in 1952 even though he didn't participate in the Democratic party primaries. He was "coy and reluctant" and almost had to be "drafted" for the nomination at the last minute.

IT WAS SEN. KEFAUVER—he had the coonskin cap—who rode the primaries from coast to coast and piled up a lot of votes, derived in large part from his TV appearances in the guise of a vice crusader and chairman of a congressional investigating committee.

Those were the days when the "liberals" didn't bring up "due process" or the Bill of Rights. They didn't mind one-man hearings then or brow-beating of witnesses or innuendoes or any of the things which lately have become the subject of so much concern because the sensitivities of "left wingers" now are involved.

The presidential - preference primaries, however, aren't going to play an influential part in picking the 1956 candidate of the Democratic party.

The plan is for the principal candidates to agree among themselves. Thus, after a three-hour conference at Stevenson's palatial home outside of Chicago, Gov. Harriman says he will not run if the former Illinois governor wants to run. And Stevenson will not try unless he is sure to win the nomination—which depends on the assent of the big-city machines in the Democratic party, some of which are opposed to him, as, for example. Tammany in New York.

It was Gov. Shivers of Texas who poured cold water on the Stevenson candidacy by saying it wouldn't have the support of the South. Promptly Sen. Neuberger said this was because in 1952 Stevenson had refused to give Gov. Shivers an endorsement of the so-called "Tidelands oil give-away." Neuberger thought this refusal would prove an asset to Stevenson rather than a liability.

The Republicans, to be sure, may just possibly remind the electorate next time that the sum total of all the "give-aways" during the 20 years of Democratic rule was very big, and an itemized report might make some interesting campaign fireworks.

The Conference of Governors at Chicago, however, which brought about the political discussion last week of presidential candidates did assemble the very men who control most of the state machines in the Democratic party. Hence it is right, politically speaking, to pay attention to what they say.

In fact, last November when so many Democratic governors were elected, it was jubilantly claimed by some Democratic spokesmen that the possession of this very political machinery—and the control of state appointments — would help the Democratic party to victory in 1956.

THESE DEMOCRATIC governors are only the "front men" for the real powers in the Democratic party. It's the bosses of the big labor unions who pull the strings. Not many conventions ago, the wise and resourceful FDR told his lieutenants who were considering various persons for the vice-presidential nomination to "clear it with Sidney." This was a reference to CIO's Sidney Hillman.

The clearance wasn't for loyalty or security reasons, as the term has come to be used nowadays—except perhaps in a metaphorical sense. It meant that a candidate, to be acceptable, must put loyalty to the labor-union doctrines above all else, even the party doctrine once proclaimed by Jefferson; "Equal rights for all, special privileges for none."

The labor unions, of course, supply lots of money and workers to the Democratic party campaigns. So it's important that a presidential candidate shall have the endorsement not just of the governors of states but of the governors of the big labor unions of America.

Presidential primaries are just window dressing. The trek is back to the middle ages of American politics — only it's the country estate now, rather than the "smoke filled hotel room," where the deals are made.

Rediscovery

By TRUMAN TWILL

Since there is nothing new under the sun anyway, the thrill of rediscovery is endless. It always has seemed to me this is a field which newspapers have failed to work in diligently enough for their own good.

I have a personal list of things that need to be rediscovered once a year for the sake of keeping abreast of the times. They would be interesting because they would be brand new to many readers and worth a second look by all readers. The saleability of historical novels and autobiographies clinches the point.

There should be an annual review of the skeletonized history of localities, one of the most neglected fields of local news. Even those who think they have the high points of local history in hand are handicapped by faulty memory.

There should be periodic reviews of the history of the country, with special stress on original circumstances, such as the Constitutional Convention, the Federalist Papers and the basic guarantees made in the Bill of Rights.

Weather records could well be exhumed and republished systematically, to keep endless speculation about what is happening to the climate on the right track. Everybody talks about the weather, but few of the talkers know what they are talking about.

I would favor organized and systematic reviewing of fashions in clothing, books, music and the dramatic arts, not only as aids to the pleasure of reminiscence but as aids to perspective on the present.

In the department of politics, there is no limit to the benefits that would be bestowed if week in and week out, year in and year out, the record of government could be brought into the light and the theme developed that the more things change the more they are the same.

Speeches by public and private dignitaries should be reviewed periodically and called to attention for the purpose of reminding listeners not to take seriously what people say but to pay attention only to what they do and to what happens in spite of what they say and do.

Social customs should be combed over, catalogued and discussed with a view to eliminating the impression that these matters suddenly have assumed forms they never assumed before; they haven't.

Endless reviews of education would reveal that the products of planned improvement of the mind and body are neither better or worse than they have been in the past.

Business practices would reveal the same thing — that the nature of striving for survival is not peculiar to any one generation or any one frame of reference set up by critics trying to make invidious comparisons.

Continuous research into agriculture would eliminate the impression that a turnip is different if tended by a machine from what it was when tended by a man with a hoe.

And all these things would be news. They would be rediscoveries. They would be background for the high drama of being alive for a brief span in an endless march of history that has consisted of marching up the hill and marching back down again—the hill that always seems to be changing but never does.

I think newspapers would be doing themselves and their readers a service if they hammered diligently at the basis of all news—that it is a never-ending repetition of all the news that has happened before.

Daily Bible Thought

"But she of her want did cast in all that she had, even her living."—Mark 12:44. Such heroic examples have inspired Christian philanthropy. Each year in America alone four billion dollars are given for religious and philanthropic purposes. Give credit to the sacrificial gifts of the poor that inspire it.

Old Trees Dying

URBANA, Ill. (AP)—Elm trees on the University of Illinois campus are on their last legs. Robert S. Chamberlain, the university's superintendent of operations, says all the 1,600 elms are expected to succumb to Dutch elm disease in the next two years.

The elm arched Broadwalk in the heart of the campus, one of the famous sights of the university, has lost 48 of its 117 elms which are 81 years old.

Hair Missing

ROCKY HILL, Conn. (AP)—A bald bull is one in 100 million, but the Hary J. Hayes farm has two of them — two-year-old Pinky and Hairless, a young calf.

Keep That Guard Up, Sam

Inside a Communist University

By Ritchie McEwen

VIENNA

A unique view inside a communist-run university — a place of spies, regimentation and prudery — is given by two student-refugees who have just arrived here after escaping from Czechoslovakia.

Ideology lessons are entwined into all activities — even the relationship between men and women students, said the refugees, who have gone through several semesters at the Slovak University at Bratislava. Their names cannot be disclosed since they have relatives still living in Czechoslovakia.

Student spies, organized criticisms of the instructors and rigid rules on social life that dictate even which steps may be danced —all are an integral part of the university's curriculum.

A PART OF every lecture, the refugees said, is devoted to "discussion and criticism" not of the subject, but the professor's ability to teach.

But the faculty is provided means to retaliate, the refugees went on.

Students who are unable to keep up with their studies for any reason are given "tutors," picked from among their fellows. If the professor finds that the student has fallen behind due to negligence, he demands a detailed schedule of the student's private study time in triplicate (one copy for the group instructor, another for the political secretary, and the third to be kept by the student). The student is then "shadowed" by a "trusty," a reliable communist fellow-undergraduate, who reports on his movements.

If a "negligent" student is caught on the streets, in a beer parlor, or at the theatre when—according to his own schedule—he ought to be studying, he stands a good chance of being expelled.

Members of the Communist party, and students who have distinguished themselves as Stakhanovites in the coal mines, or who are leaders in the Communist youth movement, are excepted, and cannot be found guilty of negligence.

No matter what the student wishes to study, the most important part of any "democratic" degree" is the study of Marxism, Leninism, and, to a lesser degree, Stalinism; the Russian language and the socalled social doctrines. They include the history of the workers movement throughout the world, of the all-Soviet Communist Party, and the Cominform. Twelve compulsory periods a week are devoted to these subjects.

TEN MORE PERIODS are taken up with lectures on military subjects and gymnastics, leaving barely half the student's time for such pursuits as law, economics and engineering.

A law student's syllabus will include lectures on the imperialist-fascist society of the United States, and the constitutional law of Soviet Russia.

The budding "democratic" lawyer is taught that all good law is based solely on Marxist-Leninist theory and doctrine:

"1. The state is an apparatus in the hands of the dominating class which serves to suppress the enemy classes. This apparatus safeguards the order of things suitable and advantageous for the dominating class to suppress the enemy classes.

"2. Law is a collection of norms legalized through state power, which are suitable and advantageous for the dominating class to suppress and annihilate the enemy classes."

Outside study hours the people's student is bound by a long list of unwritten but "democratic" laws. Those in force at the Slovak University include:

1. No student may participate in any entertainment other than that organized by the "socialist youth," the Communist Party or factories. Such entertainments must be visited collectively. On such occasions students must be dressed in blue "youth movement" regulation shirts.

2. Students may indulge only in Czech, Hungarian, Slovak and Russian dancing. The tango, boogie-woogie, jive and jazz are strictly forbidden.

3. Students are forbidden to consume alcohol: only 4 per cent beer is permitted.

4. Students are forbidden to visit socialist entertainments individually with a girl, to meet girls other than those dressed in the uniform blue blouses of the youth movement, or dress in "western fashion," read western books, or play cards.

CHURCH - GOING, listening to western broadcasts and the wish to learn a western language—particularly English—is frowned on, though not necessarily forbidden. Sanction to do any of these things largely depends on the student's "reliability assessment."

In addition, at the beginning of each term, the student is made to submit a written "social obligation" in duplicate, in which he promises to perform certain "voluntary" tasks during the forthcoming term. For example, a minimum of 30 hours work in his free time with the local labor brigade, the promise to recruit a set number of new subscribers to party newspapers, to read a certain number of Russian books and to train for one of the defense services.

Another "democratic" custom is to make enrollment for the next term dependent on "service" with a youth brigade during the holidays.

As a kind of entrance examination to the university it is necessary to have three things: a "maturity" certificate, Socialist Youth Movement membership, and a political admittance examination. The certificate, which corresponds to a western secondary school diploma, is waived in the case of a Stakhanovite shockworker from the mines or factory. The political admittance examination is not for the shockworkers either, but only for the "bourgeois" class applicants who have to run the gauntlet of a two-hour catechism on Marxism and Leninism to prove that they are sufficiently "democratic" to be admitted to a people's university.

Costly Coffee

WOLVERINE, Mich. (AP) — A cup of coffee proved expensive for Daniel Buelman. He parked his big tractor-trailer truck on a hill and walked into a hotel dining room for coffee. Minutes later, the truck came, too, slipping its brakes and smashing a 12 x 12 foot hole in the wall near Buelman's table. He got a tab for coffee — and damages.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Quiz Show Revolt

Mrs. Shrewsberry Bozzle, president of the Quiz Show Contestant's Protective League, notifies us that her organization is up in arms over certain aspects of the latest big money TV shows, more particularly the four-section questions.

"The quiz show addicts of America will fight to the death this multiple-section query," she declares. "One-part questions are more than enough for us," she continued, "and we are against even the two-part question. But when a sponsor begins splitting a question into four pieces it is a body blow at the average quiz show contestant.

Many of our members get all beat up trying to answer even a four-lane query such as "The nickname of a world famous American was 'Slim.' Was it Roy Campanella, Charles Lindbergh, Sophie Tucker or Buddy Baer?"

THE QUIZ SHOW Contestants' League will be joined by the American Jackpot Seekers Society for Mutual Defense in demanding a ban on the three, four and five weeks routine for individual contestants such as Gino Prato.

This is overdoing endurance, they say. Some day a contestant returning for a fourth or fifth week for a jackpot is going to collapse in the glass booth. "Representing millions of quiz show addicts all over the land, I protest this return after return after return routine," said Hemingway Sludge, executive secretary of Jackpot Seekers Society for Mutual Defense.

(Mr. Sludge specializes in one-time appearances and has done very well with earnings from not being too far wrong in answering a question like "Is a humidor a bullfighter, a yacht-club official, a booking agent or a cigar case?")

He says quiz-show addicts suffer enough without having travel sores. "Are we quiz-show people or vaudeville troupers?" he asks. "And, another thing to remember is that after a man has run up a little dough by three or more appearances he begins to get appeals for help from long lost relatives and friends he can't remember," adds Mr. Sludge.

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE for Getting as Far Out on a Limb as Possible has entered the picture by insisting that there be no quiz prizes less than $50,000. It favors at least a hard-top auto as soon as a contestant has given the right answer to "Are you married or single?" Chidsey Highskull, head of this organization, says he thinks a $64,000 prize is not enough. "They should make it $70,000 and throw in the bank vice-president, the two cops and the doll who escorts each contestant on to the stage," he declares.

WE KNOW A NEW ENGLAND man who is so apprehensive that he gets windburned listening to reports of a hurricane before it leaves the Caribbean.

Can you remember away back when you could see an auto on the road with the paint faded? Why is it that the auto which a cash customer has to wait so long to get can be obtained on almost any quiz show? . . . AND AS A CONSOLATION PRIZE!

McWherter of 252 Uhler Ave., were exchanged Aug. 5 at 7 p.m. in the First Church of the Nazarene. The double ring service was used and the custom of open church observed.

Rev. Lester L. Zimmerman, pastor of the church, officiated.

THE CHURCH ALTAR was decorated with palms, a basket of white gladioli, and lighted candles held in four candelabra. Family pews were marked with white satin bows.

Preceding the ceremony a program of nuptial music was presented by Miss Harriet Orr, organist, and Mrs. Harold F. Smith, aunt of the bridegroom, vocalist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full skirted ballerina-length gown of rose point lace and nylon tulle over white satin made with a tight-fitted bodice, a high neck with Peter Pan collar, and leg-of-mutton sleeves. Self-covered buttons of the lace closed the bodice in the back. Her veil of nylon tulle was caught to a sweetheart styled cap of lace and seed pearls, designed by her mother. A strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, a blue stone ring set in scrolled sterling, which was worn by her mother, and a white Bible topped by a white orchid showered with ribbon streamers tied in lover's knots and attached by white pompons completed her ensemble.

Misses Edith and Edna McWherter, sisters of the bridegroom, attended the bride. Their gowns, also of ballerina length, were fashioned alike of blue nylon dotted Swiss over blue taffeta with full skirts gathered to fitted bodices, short shirred sleeves, and high necks with Peter Pan collars. They wore headpieces to match their gowns and carried crescents of white daisy pompons.

FRED ROTH of near Marion served as best man and Roger Ward, Richard Severns, and Kenneth Smith seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Leffler chose a dress of beige linen, beige and coral accessories and a corsage of coral gladioli buds.

Former German Airman Talks At Marion Lions Club Meeting

Robert Hoffman, who served in the German Air Force during World War II and has resided in Marion for three years, was the guest speaker before the Lions Club at their luncheon meeting Monday in Hotel Harding.

He recounted for the members his experiences in the German Air Force in which he was drafted while residing in Germany. He was born in Austria of an American mother and an Austrian father and had attended Heidelberg University until 1939.

At that time his father was arrested as a spy and taken to a Berlin concentration camp, and his mother and sister were arrested in Yugoslavia and interned in a camp.

After completing a cadet school, Hoffman was graduated with a rank equivalent to a second lieutenant, and then was sent to Finland and North Africa for service.

Once he was captured by the Russians but managed to escape, he told the Lions Club, and eventually was able to land on an American airfield. After being in a prisoner of war camp for over a year, he worked for the U. S. military government and in 1949 was able to return to the United States.

He was introduced by Riley Hall, program chairman for the day.

Guests included John Beal, Dr. Larry Birch and Ernest Brady of Marion.

"We're not missing," McGuffin shouted back. "We're just on an extended wedding trip."

EDMONSTON, Md. (AP)—A five-man road crew labored for six hours Monday to rescue a little, bedraggled cocker spaniel named Blackie from a below-ground drainage pipe.

Carried to an animal hospital, Blackie was treated for malnutrition and a broken leg. Robert M. Lynn, a veterinarian, estimated he had been without food for three day.

Later, Buelah B Jeffers claimed Blackie as hers. She said he had strayed a week ago.
